"[illegible]" ROSSA AGAIN INTERVIEWED

[illegible] Dinner to Wm. Henry Hurlbut—A Miraculous Cure Turns out to be a Fraud—The Bartholdi Statue—Etc.

[illegible] Supply of Pennsylvania Decreasing.

[illegible], June 6.—[Special.] The Press says [illegible]: "The activity in petroleum traffic [illegible] warrant in the natural conditions [illegible] than any simple action during the [illegible] these years. The advance of prices [illegible] the past fortnight has witnessed has for its [illegible] three hard facts: First, there are to-day [illegible] wells than there were twelve [illegible] producing; second, the average daily production [illegible] greatly less than it was then, and is [illegible] constant shrinkage; third, stocks in the [illegible] were decreased, in the month of April, [illegible] whereas until that month they had [illegible] steady visible increase every week since [illegible]. When we consider these facts, and that the [illegible] territory has been closely defined, and [illegible] persistent operating has fail to discover [illegible] sources of supply, it is not difficult to trace [illegible] of the cause and effect in the recent [illegible] in values.'

[illegible], on the other hand, says: "The man [illegible] largest in oil is the one who will know [illegible] his money when he wants it."

O'Donovan Rossa Interviewed.

[illegible], June 6.—[Special.]—O'Donovan Rossa, [illegible] said: "Do I know anything [illegible] attempt to blow up the Welland [illegible] I know the English government will [illegible] enough on hand very soon. That canal [illegible] miles long. They have had sentries on [illegible] every quarter of a mile; that requires [illegible] they must have an equal number on [illegible], and then there is a relief force, [illegible] necessary every 12 hours, which [illegible] to 41 men. Let Great Britain pay [illegible] watch the canal. There are 190 other [illegible] just as necessary for them to watch [illegible] my advice will go, I shall instruct [illegible] keep England constantly on the alert [illegible]. She has canals elsewhere and [illegible] in London that will need as close [illegible]. The Welland canal is an appropriate object [illegible] it draws the trade of the whole [illegible] Canada, and injures American [illegible]."

[illegible] Land in Arizona Claimed.

[illegible] 6.—Geo. M. Willing, an old and [illegible] of this city, backed by a syndicate [illegible] St. Louis and California, is about [illegible] legal proceedings to secure a [illegible] square leagues, or 2700 square [illegible] lying along the Gila river and running [illegible] Maricopa mountains in Arizona, [illegible] by Willing's son from a Spanish [illegible] Peralt, in 1874, and a deed of [illegible] at Prescott, Arizona, but which [illegible] death of Willing was not disclosed [illegible]. There are some complications [illegible] ownership, but Willing, Sr., and [illegible] are confident of being able to [illegible]. The property embraces several [illegible] estimated at being worth at least [illegible]

[illegible] Nickerson Divorce Case.

[illegible] June 6.—To-day was the time fixed [illegible] in the Nickerson divorce case. [illegible] for Major Nickerson, stated that he [illegible] reply from his client to the telegram [illegible] to be present, and as cross-examination [illegible] would be incomplete, Fletcher [illegible] duty to ask for further time. "If, [illegible]," the court refuses to allow [illegible] constrained to say that, in my [illegible] judgment in this case has shown [illegible] the divorce, and if the court is [illegible] of the matter to-day, I think [illegible] be reversed." The court then announced [illegible] case would be submitted on the [illegible] received, and the counsel agreeing [illegible] money was handed to the court for [illegible]

[illegible] Branch of the Dunkard Church.

An American Priest Honored.

FORT WAYNE, June 6.—Cablegrams received here show that Rev. Julian Benoit, vicar general of the Roman Catholic diocese of Fort Wayne, has been named monsignor and appointed prelate of the papal household at Rome. Father Benoit came from France as missionary fifty years ago, and is 70 years of age. He is the first in the United States upon whom the honor has been conferred.

Wedding in High Life.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—At 12:35 o'clock to-day, Miss Edith Fish, daughter of Hamilton Fish, will be married to Hugh Oliver Northcote, son of Sir Stafford Northcote, of Devonshire, England. The bride is the last bridesmaid of Miss Nellie Grant to be married. She has been a prominent figure in New York and Washington society for several years past.

The Annual Exodus Across the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—The sudden advent of hot weather has increased European travel between 25 per cent. The steamer that sailed to-day was full to overflowing. About 400 will sail on other steamships to-morrow. Among the passengers by the Servia are James Phoite and wife and Dr. and Mrs. Belmont of San Francisco.

The Strike Practically Ended.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Six hundred union bricklayers had a session last night, and after a long discussion it was decided that the men could go to work wherever they chose at $4 a day, provided they refused to work under non-union foremen. This practically ends the strike and is regarded as a collapse of the union.

Severe Storm at Albany.

ALBANY, June 6.—A storm this afternoon caused damages to the amount of $500,000. Houses were undermined, cellars flooded, streets torn up, etc. Lightning struck several places. A large derrick on the new capitol, and a flag staff on the Delevan house, were shivered. No one was injured.

Received a Verdict of Damages.

BROOKLYN, June 6.—Adelaide S. Smith, who brought suit under the civil damage act, in Brooklyn, against Patrick Demery and Cornelius Clark, liquor dealers, for $10,000, for selling her husband liquor and causing him to become drunk, to-day secured a verdict of $2500.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—A movement is on foot in the Century club to erect a life-size statue in bronze of William Cullen Bryant, in Central Park.

MORE FRAUD UNEARTHED.

Senator Van Wyck Discovers Another Star Route in Existence.

CHICAGO, June 6.—A Washington special says: The star route, about which Senator Van Wyck has just been enlightening the postoffice department, is one that he called the senate's attention to last winter. Deadwood is already supplied with daily mails from Pierre on the Chicago and Northwestern, and from Sidney on the Union Pacific. A year ago congress passed an act creating two more routes to Deadwood; one from Chamberlain, on the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad and Missouri river, and the other from Niobrara, on the Sioux City and Pacific road. In the winter, the postoffice department advertised for proposals for carrying mails over these routes; thereupon Van Wyck got the resolution of inquiry adopted, and in connection with it he showed the absurdity of the routes. He wished to get the act creating the routes repealed, but was told by the postoffice committee that that was unnecessary. After the exposure had been made the postmaster general would not think of letting contracts for the routes.

THE SENATOR'S RECENT DISCOVERY.

The matter dropped there, and the senator supposed it had been dropped for good. In the meantime there had been a change in the postmaster generalship, but none in the contract office. Two days ago Van Wyck learned that the contract for conveying mail on the route from Niobrara to Deadwood had been let at $13,900 a year to Miner, one of the defendants in the present star route trial, and he promptly had a warm interview with Chief Clerk Lyman, of the contract office, and a very satisfactory interview with Postmaster General Gresham, who the senator believes, will suspend the contract as stated above. Deadwood people have a daily mail from two points already. The aggregate postal revenues arising within fifty miles of Niobrara do not amount to $200 a year, and there are no white settlers between the points, and for most of the way there cannot be, until the Indian title is extinguished.

OHIO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Judge Foraker of Cincinnati Nominated by Acclamation.

COLUMBUS, O., June 6.—The republican state convention was called to order at 10 A. M. There was a great crowd in attendance. When the name of Senator Sherman as permanent chairman was called, the convention burst into wild enthusiasm and long continued applause. In returning thanks he reviewed the work and history of the republican party. "The republican party," he said, "believed in protection of American labor and in taxation of the liquor traffic; one question was national, the other a state issue."

The convention then proceeded to nomination of a state ticket, Ben Butterworth presenting J. B. Foraker of Cincinnati.

Private Dalzell offered Sherman, and convention again broke into wild applause, and could only be quieted by Sherman rapping for order violently, when he said he had not been insensible to the preference of a large majority of delegates, but he would say frankly and firmly that he could not be a candidate; he could not surrender his duties in the senate in justice to the people of Ohio and the country. Aside from this he could not accept the nomination without feelings of personal dishonor.

Judge Foraker was then nominated by acclamation. He appeared later and made quite a lengthy speech of thanks, pledging his best efforts to the cause, and outlining the importance of the campaign.

THE PLATFORM.

After the nomination of a candidate for Governor a platform was adopted, which after reviewing the record of the party declares against the theory of "tariff for revenue only," arguing that it is opposed to the best interests of the American nation. It urges that the wool tariff of 1867 be restored and that the national bureau of labor statistics be at once established.

The ticket was completed by the nomination for lieutenant governor of William Graue of Cleveland, and candidates for supreme judges, auditor and treasurer. Adjourned.

WHY FORAKER WAS NOMINATED.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—Commercial's Columbus special, on Foraker's nomination: "The result can be attributed to jealousy, faction fighting and personal ambition. Foraker is a young man with a good reputation among those who know him, but the trouble just now is he is not known well enough. Perhaps his reputation is such that it will grow, rather than diminish, however, between this and October."

STRAW PULP.

The New Preparation to be Used in the Manufacture of Tubes for Underground Wires.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—The Sun says: "Wall street speculation is seeking new fields and is beginning to center on the electric wire scheme. The general agitation is in favor of getting telegraph, telephone and electric light wires underground. The attempts to force them there and a growing feeling that the underground system will be adopted in time, has brought a dozen underground schemes to a point, and the stock of the companies controlling them is coming into market. Glass, gutta percha, porcelain and various compositions have been advocated, and the companies controlling the patents are making expensive experiments. The most conspicuous scheme, however, is the straw pulp craze, the new patent for paper car wheels and car lines.

From a basis of straw pulp tubes for cables are made that are not only impervious to water, pliable and sufficiently elastic for expansion of the wire placed in them, but also, it is said, proof against induction. From the same material, it is claimed, wagons, furniture and dishes can be made in blows, instead of by the present fashion of pressing layers of the paper together. Several thousand shares of the stock of the company, [illegible] these patents have changed hands in the last few days. The market started at $50 per share last week, and has since been sold as high as $80 a share."

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC [illegible]

BOSTON, June 6.—[Special.]—The Transcript says: "The Atlantic & Pacific [illegible]. The company has sold at least ten millions of its treasury capital stock, and given an option at [illegible] for ten millions more. The first ten millions has been oversubscribed for, and no doubt the second will be easily sold by syndicate. This will give the Atlantic & Pacific over $10,000,000, and will enable it to repay the $2,250,000 advances for its construction by the Atchison & San Francisco."

No Mercy for Opium Fiends—One Hundred and Nine in the Shade at Sonoma—Murder in Idaho, Etc.

General Manager Towne Before the Commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—At a meeting of the railroad commissioners to-day General Manager Towne submitted a showing, that the total amount available for dividends, from the receipts of the Pacific railroad companies and leased lines in 1882, was over $1,250,000 less than in 1881. This, he said, was due partly to renewal and improvements to property, but to a much larger extent to the increased traffic at lower rates. California freight rates, he maintained, as compared with Oregon rates from interior points to tide water, is from 100 to 200 per cent lower in California than in Oregon. The statement went on to show further that the railroad company had carried nearly 170,000,000 tons of freight more in 1882 than in 1881, and nearly 38,000,000 passengers were carried 1 per mile in 1882 more than were carried in the same distance in 1881. After reading the statement Commissioner Foote said he was in favor of a three cent rate. If this could not be agreed on he would favor four cents. His schedule proposes rates of five, six, and seven cents per mile, based on the traffic and the cost of running of the road. Further consideration of the schedules was postponed to the next meeting.

Terrific Explosion of Nitro-Glycerine.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—[Special.]—A nitro-glycerine tank of the Nitro Safety Works, situated on the El Sobrante rancho, Contra Costa county, exploded to-day, doing considerable damage. A severe shock was felt in this city. No details have been received beyond the announcement that none of the employes had been killed.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.—The Sobrante gunpowder works near San Pablo, blew up this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Many lives are reported lost, but particulars are wanting.

A Mutinous Engineer.

[Special.]—The steamer Suez, which sailed for Honolulu yesterday, was the scene of considerable excitement as she was pulling out into the stream. The engineer, at the last moment, objected to going to sea, and was in the act of taking his clothes from the vessel, when he was seized and taken below. He came on deck again, brandishing an iron bar and threatening death to anyone who interfered with him. He was finally secured and taken to sea.

No Mercy for Opium Fiends.

Justice Webb yesterday sentenced three white men, found guilty of being inside an opium joint for the purpose of smoking opium, to imprisonment in the county jail. The judge stated that if persons will persist in the Chinese vice of opium smoking they do so at their peril, and when arrested, brought before him and convicted they must not expect to get off with light penalties.

Shipping Intelligence.

Clearances, Wednesday, June 6—Ship City of Brooklyn, Swan, Port Townsend, Simpson Bros. & Co. The steamer Willamette will sail for Puget Sound ports to-morrow. The Ivanhoe has secured a charter to load with lumber at Tacoma for Sydney.

Hot Weather.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—[Special.]—Weather hazy; moderating; wind, light southeast; highest temperature, at 1:30 P. M., 95 2-100 degrees; at San Jose, noon, 90; at Gilroy, 104.

One Hundred and Nine in the Shade.

SONOMA, June 6.—The day has been excessively warm; though the north wind has ceased, the weather seems more extreme than is usually experienced. At sunrise it was hot and has continued so until after sundown. The highest the mercury is reported in the valley is 109 in the shade.

UTAH.

How the Mormons Rid Themselves of Obnoxious Members.

SALT LAKE, June 6.—A telegram was received in this city to-day from Chattanooga stating that John Alexander had been beaten and shot twice in a Georgia town. This information comes to the Mormon church from one of its elders in Chattanooga. John Alexander is the son of an honest apostate Mormon, who earnestly protested against the young man going on a mission, but he was in love with a bishop's daughter and the church told him he could not have the girl unless he served as a missionary in the south for two years and last April he was sent to Georgia against the wishes of his father and mother. Three years ago a Mormon elder by the name of Standish was killed in the same locality, so that it is not a healthy place for polygamists. The father of John Alexander looks upon the shooting of his son as a put up job by the Mormons.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Grand Lodge Election, K. of P.

THE DALLES, June 6.—[Special.]—At the meeting of the grand lodge, K. of P., at 10 o'clock this morning, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year: Grand chancellor, L. Newcomb, of Ivanhoe No. 10, Portland; grand vice chancellor, G. W. Hochstedler, Laurel No. 7, Albany; grand prelate, J. C. Neitz, Friendship No. 9, The Dalles; grand master of exchequer, John Holmes, Excelsior No. 1, Portland; grand keeper of records Ward Stevens, Mystic No. 2, Portland; grand master at arms, J. Bachelder, of Vancouver, W. T.

IDAHO.

Murder Near Salmon Falls, Idaho.

BAKER CITY, via PENDLETON, June 6.—[Special.]—A man named Eccleson, a resident of Salmon Falls, Idaho, was murdered near here last night. The coroner's jury are holding an inquest. No clue to the perpetrators.

The County Seat Election.

LEWISTON, June 6—[Special.]—Returns from all but one precinct give Lewiston a majority of over 200 on the county seat question.

The Short Line.

Instructions have been received from Omaha for the engineers to locate the Oregon Short Line up Snake river. A party of surveyors left here yesterday to commence the survey.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Arms to be Sent.

OLYMPIA, June 6.—[Special.]—Governor Newell has been requested by the sheriff of Spokane county to forward in haste arms and ammunition, "to be used for self-protection against possible attack by Indians now threatening." The arms and ammunition have been sent.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Notes from Victoria.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 6.—Land exploring parties are out in every direction. One party discovered a large tract within a few miles of the city where no land was supposed to exist.

The American bark Alden Besse with merchandise and three hundred Chinamen arrived last night.

The wreck of the ship Cinosure floated last night and was towed in harbor. She has a cargo of lumber on board.

An American named D. B. Heming was arrested here charged with being concerned in the Chinese massacre.

ACCIDENTS.

AN ELEVATOR GIVES WAY.

MILWAUKEE, May 6.—The addition to the Northwestern marine elevator, owned by Angus Bros. & Kershaw, burst at 4 o'clock this afternoon, under a pressure of 115,000 bushels of No. 2 wheat. The walls fell, owing to the settling of the foundation, and about 2000 bushels slid into the river. Seven tramps were seen dozing in its shade a few minutes before the crash, and it is believed they were buried under the ruins. The work of clearing the grain is going forward rapidly in hope of reaching the men, if there, before life is extinct. Loss on the building, $5,000; loss on the grain cannot be estimated at present. The steam barge C. J. Kershaw was telegraphed for at Chicago, and will load 53,000 bushels to-night.

FOUR MEN KILLED IN A TRAIN WRECK.

SEYMOUR, Ind., June 6.—At 4 P. M. a passenger train of the Louisville and New Albany railroad was badly wrecked at Farmington, three miles south of here, by a trestle damaged by water giving way. David Hutchinson, engineer; Miller Horace, fireman; George Ammons, baggage master, and the porter of the Pullman car, name unknown, were killed. The engine, baggage car, Pullman and chair cars were completely wrecked and are surrounded by water. No passengers are reported killed.

POWDER MAGAZINE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

HUTCHINSON, Ks., June 6—The Hazard Powder Company's magazine, containing 500 pounds of powder, was struck this morning by lightning. The explosion broke nearly every glass front in the city, wrenched several buildings from their foundations, and knocked down plastering, lamps and clocks a mile away. One dwelling was riddled by flying bricks.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 6.—A large tank of the Tide Water Pipe Line Company, at Muncie, containing 800 barrels, was struck by lightning, setting the oil on fire. Two or three buildings in Muncie were also struck.

LUNDBORG'S RHENISH COLOGNE.

CROOK'S CAMPAIGN.

The Belief Expressed that the Indian Fighter will Require all Summer to Complete the Campaign.

FT. BOWIE, A. T., June 6.—[Special.]—Nothing definite has been heard yet from Crook. Reports from Mexican villages along the Sonora slope of the Sierra Madres have confirmed the intelligence of a few days ago, that the Apaches have broken off into small parties, and some are being driven north again. In consequence the troops left behind are quietly preparing for an extended campaign, and the belief is expressed that Crook will require all summer to bring the hostiles to terms. It is not believed in the border that the forces have yet turned back, as they still have twenty-five days' rations, and not more than two weeks will be taken for the return march. Crook will be forced to return to the line for rations, and besides the Indian scouts were enlisted for only sixty days. It is expected that a majority of these will re-enlist. The military authorities claim that there will be no necessity for more than a single company of white troops, which is now with Crook, to cross the line again, but this is a poor conjecture.

The first news from the mountains will be brought in by Indian scouts. The Indians with Crook are from Yuma, Mojave, Quonto, White Mountain and San Carlos Ojos.

CROOK'S OFFICERS.

The officers are: First Lieutenant J. G. Fiebiger, of the engineer corps; Captain John G. Bourke, Third cavalry, acting aide-de-camp; First Lieutenant Emmett Crawford, Third cavalry, commanding a battalion of Indian scouts; Second Lieutenant Chas. B. Gatewood, Sixth cavalry, commanding a battalion of Indian scouts; Captain Adna R. Chaffee, Sixth cavalry, commanding troop I of the same cavalry; First Lieutenant Frank West, Sixth cavalry, on duty with troop I; Second Lieutenant Wm. W. Forsythe, Sixth cavalry, on duty with troop I; First Lieutenant Jas. O'Mackey, Third cavalry, on duty with Crook.

Troop I, which is the only white company with the expedition, contains about fifty men. Crook's positive instructions before leaving were for Major Biddle to be at San Bernardino springs, and meet him five days before the expiration of the present month. If nothing is heard from him by July 15 Biddle was to push on into the mountains. Should Crook prove successful it is expected he will take time in coming back. If any disaster happens some of the Indian scouts would force their way through the mountains, and soon bring the news.

WILCOX'S REPORT TO HEADQUARTERS.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—[Special.]—Agent Wilcox has telegraphed from San Carlos Arizona, to the commissioner of Indian affairs that the remnant of Loco's band which surrendered to the military was cut off from the main body of the band by Mexican troops. They heard that the country was full of soldiers and fled to San Carlos for refuge. The agent hesitated to receive them, and they are now being fed by the military. Agent Wilcox also says the prisoners should be taken from the reservation and punished. They came from necessity, and will breed discord and encourage absentees to return that they may fatten and grow strong for another raid. To prevent the murder of whites in the future, and assure the people that the reservation is not to be made a safe retreat for murderers, prompt action should be taken, with all that have returned, including the two bucks who surrendered May 2, and a provision made for others who are almost sure to follow, as soon as they are routed from the mountains of Mexico.

THE NEW CONSULATE.

Mexico Sends a Representative to Philadelphia—Gigantic Immigration Scheme.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—[Special.]—Senor Rafael Varrios, the new Mexican consul resident of this city, arrived yesterday and will assume the functions of his office at once. The event is one of great significance to Philadelphia merchants. Heretofore only two American ports, New York and San Francisco, were deemed of sufficient importance to Mexico commercially to be worthy of a consulate of the first rank. The gentleman now assigned to Philadelphia will rank with the incumbents at the ports named. His purpose is to develop trade between the manufacturers of this city and Mexican consumers who purchase of American products. This has hitherto been done through middle men in New York and elsewhere. The new consul was partially educated in San Francisco and speaks English fluently. He comes thoroughly equipped with information as to the commercial, fiscal, mining and pastoral laws of the country. Persons desirous of investing or emigrating will be furnished with complete description of localities, soil and resources. He brings most interesting specimens of minerals in which the mountains abound as well as agricultural products of the country.

LIBERAL OFFER TO IMMIGRANTS.

This country is perfecting the details of a most elaborate scheme of immigration ever put in operation. Its general features comprehend the payment of the fare of intending immigrants to their destination, settling upon each a farm for agricultural or grazing purposes, furnishing them with a team and assistance, provisions and money during the first two years. Senor Varrios says the commercial treaty now pending between the governments is very popular in Mexico. No treaty of the kind is pending between Mexico and any other country but the United States. The progressive element in Mexican politics have cast aside old prejudices against the United States, and the eyes of the people have been opened to the extortions they have endured, through the tolerance of a monopoly of their commerce by Europe. Now every Mexican of intelligence is interested in the progress of his country.

AN IRASCIBLE DIPLOMAT.

The Spanish Minister Feels that his Country has been Insulted by the United States Government.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—[Special.]—Senor Barca, minister plenipotentiary and envoy from his Catholic majesty, the king of Spain, has taken the liberty of offering a very curt letter to Secretary Frelinghuysen. The minister intimates, unequivocally, that in the opinion of his majesty, the government of the United States has insulted it by a breach of decorum. The letter in question refers to the east Florida claims, and the failure on the part of our secretary of state to respond is most displeasing to the representative of the king, because the communication thus neglected was elicited by overtures of the department itself.

When Mr. Evarts graced the administration of its affairs the Spanish minister wrote to the department requesting that the government here acknowledge the validity of the decision of the court, with reference to these claims, or to deny it, and if objecting, to indicate some tribunal or form of arbitration which would be satisfactory, in order that a final adjustment might be arrived at. This letter was delivered fifteen months ago. No answer has been made, and the Spanish minister, with the approach of dog days, has finally lost his temper. The letter is understood to go about as far as a friendly communication can without treading upon dangerous ground. It is not known what steps Mr. Frelinghuysen will take to notify the irascible diplomat.

CRIMINAL.

SAFE ROBBERY IN ARKANSAS.

MORRILTON, Ark., June 6—The safe of the county treasurer of Van Buren county, and also of Bradshaw and [illegible], merchants, was blown open Tuesday by burglars. The treasurer's safe was robbed of about $7000, and the merchants' of $400. Two suspected parties are being tracked by blood hounds.

PARDONED BURGLAR ARRESTED.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 6.—James Bolan, pardoned by Governor Butler of Massachusetts, in a "dying condition," was arrested early this morning for breaking in and entering a saloon. A dozen burglaries and highway assaults of late led the police to believe that Bolan was the leader of a gang.

GOULD'S FORMER PARTNER CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—Beeden, former partner of Jay Gould, was on trial to-day for assault and battery, the suit being preferred by Andrew Rex. The case was given to the jury last evening, and a sealed verdict will be handed to the court this morning.

HUNTING THE BARBER BROTHERS.

SUMNER, Ia., June 6.—A party of men from West Union are on their way to Waverly to hang the Barber brothers to-night.

FIRE.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

NEW YORK, June 6.—A severe rain and thunder storm visited the city this afternoon. Lightning shattered a number of flag staffs in this city and Brooklyn. W. L. Price's residence in Brooklyn burned down. Tank No. 25 of the National Storage Company's oil works at Jersey City was also struck. The tank was fifty feet in diameter and thirty feet high, containing 4500 barrels of oil. The lightning passed entirely around the tank and the rivets holding the roof were entirely torn out. The side of the tank was cracked for seven feet where the lightning left it and ran along the conductor to the ground. The oil tank was not fired, although the sides of the tank were badly burned.

FIRED BY LIGHTNING.

WORCESTER, June 6.—During a heavy thunder storm to-night, Holy Cross college was struck by lightning and fired in two places. The fire was put out promptly, but the rafter, on top of the tower, [illegible] for over two hours.

THE QUEEN'S HEALTH RAPIDLY IMPROVING.

War between France and China Inevitable—The Nihilists Issue a Manifesto—Murder Conspirators Arrested.

ENGLAND.

THE NIHILISTS ISSUE A CIRCULAR.

LONDON, June 6.—The Times' correspondent at Paris says a Nihilist circular has been issued, which states that while the forces of the Russian government and its most important spies have been concentrated at Moscow during the festivities the Nihilists took advantage to spread documents and enroll supporters in St. Petersburg and other centers. It says the strength of the party in St. Petersburg is greatly increasing, and asserts that there were at the coronation officials and others, under orders of the Nihilists, near enough to the Czar to have struck him on the brow if the word had been given. It was even feared that some too zealous parties might throw a grenade at the Czar.

THE QUEEN SAID TO BE RAPIDLY RECOVERING.

LONDON, June 6.—It has been officially asserted this afternoon that there is no foundation for the rumors that may have been recently put in circulation in regard to the state of health of the queen. Her majesty is said to be progressing slowly toward a complete recovery of health. She is pronounced decidedly better since she has been at Balmoral. The court circular issued this afternoon states that she drove out twice Monday in company with Princess Beatrice. The fact that the Prince of Wales was at Ascot both yesterday and to-day shows conclusively that no alarm is felt in the household about the condition of the queen. One of the London papers denies anything concerning her other than the statement in the court circular.

GENERAL HICKS GAINS A GREAT VICTORY OVER THE ARABS.

LONDON, June 6.—General Hicks has just gained a great victory in Soudan, over 5000 Arabs, killing 500. The Arabs fight bravely, as sacred knights, but their spears were useless against shells and cannon. General Hicks lost two killed.

RACE FOR THE ROYAL HUNT CUP.

LONDON, June 6.—The race for the royal hunt cup was won by Gerald's Elzevir, Lord Bradford's Nessiff 2d, W. Gilbert's Despair 3d. Twenty-two started, including P. Lorillard's Sachem.

IRELAND.

EIGHT CONSPIRATORS ARRESTED.

DUBLIN, June 6.—Eight men were arrested at Parsonstown, charged with a conspiracy to murder a constable. A girl identified the men. The murder of the constable was decided upon at a regular meeting, of which one of the prisoners, and the actual murderer, was chairman.

CHARITABLE QUAKERS.

DUBLIN, June 6.—The Quakers in Ireland have distributed in county Donegal 220 tons of seed potatoes, thus relieving the sufferings of families of that county.

GERMANY.

OPINIONS OF THE GERMAN PRESS.

BERLIN, June 6.—Germania says the government bill affecting the Catholic church is the first step toward a more thorough revision of the May laws.

The National Zeitung says the trouble is ended and Prussia has laid down her arms. The center party it says, has been repaid for voting in favor of the arbitrary power conferred on the police by the trade deputation bill. The people at the next election must avert the danger threatened by the church party to the government.

RUSSIA.

NOTES FROM MOSCOW.

MOSCOW, June 6.—All foreign newspaper correspondents and prominent members of the Russian press present at the coronation will attend a soiree given by General Woronzoff Dachkoff, minister of the imperial household, and will present him with an address, thanking him for the cordial welcome extended them during the festivities.

It is reported that Aksakoff, a well known writer, has been banished for publishing articles asking the czar to grant liberal reforms.

There is no truth in the story that the mayor of Moscow has been removed from office.

SIMPLY DRUNKEN EXCESSES.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 6.—It is declared that the riots in St. Petersburg during the coronation were merely the drunken excesses of the lower classes, which are openly licensed on such occasions.

SPAIN.

TRIAL OF MEMBERS OF THE BLACK HAND.

MADRID, June 6.—The trial has begun at Xeres of seventeen members of the Black Hand Society, charged with murdering an associate suspected of betraying the organization to the government. The public prosecutor, in opening the case, claimed that he would submit evidence sufficient to secure the execution of sixteen prisoners.

CUBAN EXILES WILL BE ALLOWED TO RETURN.

MADRID, June 6.—The governor general of Cuba having reported favorably concerning the state of the island, over 100 exiles will be allowed to return there shortly.

CHINA.

WAR INEVITABLE BETWEEN FRANCE AND CHINA.

SHANGHAI, June 6.—[Special.]—War is inevitable, unless France abandons her pretensions in Annam. Li Hung Chang, who has been severely criticised by the Hung Li Yamen, or council of mandarins because of his conciliatory attitude toward France, is now convinced that there is no way out of the difficulty except by fighting. The council of mandarins have decided to mobilize the Chinese army. The greatest activity prevails in the camps of instruction at [illegible] Kang Nan and Ho-Nei and at the naval arsenals of Shanghai and Foo Chow. Fifty batteries of artillery have been ordered to take the field against France and are now concentrated at Tien Tsin, awaiting transportation to Annam. The forts all along the coast of the gulf of Pechelee are being strengthened. The following are the vessels which will in a few days be fully prepared for active service: Two steel-plated corvettes, built at Stettin after the model of the Sachsen and armed with two 12-inch Krupp guns and provided with torpedo apparatus of the latest European pattern; two steel cruisers, built in England and armed with Armstrong and Gatlings; six steel gunboats, of English build; six iron gunboats of English build; four steel torpedo boats, built at Stettin, and several gunboats constructed at the Shanghai arsenal.

WASSON'S COURT MARTIAL.

The Defaulting Paymaster Pleads Guilty to a Portion of the Charges.

GALVESTON, Tex., June 6.—The Wasson court martial assembled at military headquarters this morning at 10 o'clock General Small presiding, with a full board. Capt. Clous, the judge advocate, said the charges first and second were supported by four specifications, alleging in general terms that he (Wasson) had embezzled at various times since January 1, 1883, sums of $1000, $2500, $3800, $2000 and $900. Charge third, reported by specification, recited that he drew his check on the assistant U. S. treasurer at New York, for $30,000, which he entered on the stub of his check book as $30 for the purpose of deceiving the department inspector, and to cover his deficit, and further alleging that while en route from Galveston to Fort Davis, to pay off troops, he concocted and caused to be spread a false story of robbery on the Texas Pacific train of $24,000, when in fact $20,000 of this sum was secreted in his private office at Galveston.

WASSON PLEADS GUILTY.

This third charge was brought under the articles of war, as conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. Wasson pleaded guilty to charges one and two, and to specifications one, two, three, four and five of the third charge, but pleaded not guilty to charge third as a whole. The prosecution rested, and the accused asked that J. A. Jonagan and Mr. Parkhurst, of Polk county, Iowa, be introduced as witnesses in his behalf. The testimony of these witnesses was uniformly favorable as to the good character and conduct of Wasson as a soldier from his entering the army, and his social status previous to his arrest. The court then adjourned until to-morrow morning. The trial, probably will continue until Saturday. Wasson appeared with his counsel, though he has written an elaborate plea of fifty-six pages.

FOOTLIGHT FLASHES.

MR. THOMAS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—[Special.]—Mr. Thomas, with soloists and orchestra, arrived here yesterday morning. The rehearsal of the band and chorus, arranged for last evening, did not take place, as Mr. Thomas failed to put in an appearance at the pavilion, where members of the chorus had assembled, according to agreement. He sent an apology, urging fatigue of the gentlemen of his orchestra after the tedious journey. The effect on the temper of the chorus apparently was not good. A full rehearsal is called for Friday morning. The first concert takes place to-night, at which the services of the chorus are not required. The general arrangements for the festival now are satisfactorily completed.

ATTACHMENT AGAINST HAVERLY.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Samuel Colville and Edward G. Gilmore have a suit pending in the supreme court, in which they seek to recover [illegible] from J. H. Haverly, which they loaned him upon condition that it be paid on demand. When demand was made the claim was not paid. The counsel for plaintiffs secured an attachment against Haverly, on the ground that he was not a resident of this state, but of Chicago. The attachment was placed in the hands of a deputy sheriff, who took possession of the Fourteenth-street theater. The embarrassment is said to be only a temporary one.

It seems impossible that a remedy made of such common simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, etc., should make so many and such great cures as Hop Bitters do; but when old and young, rich and poor, pastor and doctor, lawyer and editor all testify to having been cured by them, you must believe and try them yourself and doubt no longer.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Three Congressmen Enter a Protest.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Representatives Cobb of Indiana, Duff and Rosecrans have, through an attorney, sent a communication to Secretary Teller, asking him not to allow filing on the records in the interior department of any mortgage made by the New Orleans and Pacific Railroad Company upon lands originally granted the New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg Railroad Company, and by the latter transferred to the corporation first named. The memorialists assert that such mortgage has been executed and is to be used as a basis for land grant bonds; that the contemplated transaction is a violation of law, and that there are grave doubts as to the right of the New Orleans and Pacific Company to avail itself of this land grant in any way whatever. Cobb, Duff and Rosecrans also filed with Secretary Teller a protest against any action on his part which would result in the issuance of a certificate to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for lands originally granted the Texas Pacific Co. They assert that these lands were declared forfeited by the judiciary committee of the house of representatives of the forty-seventh congress that the bill for the consolidation of the Southern Pacific and Texas Pacific roads, by which the former hoped to acquire a shadow of title to the lands, was twice defeated in the house, and that the Southern Pacific Company could not, by an assignment from the Texas Pacific, acquire any valid title to the latter's land grant.

The Zuni Indian Reservation.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The secretary of the interior will shortly detail a special agent from the interior department to visit the reservation of the Zuni Indians for the purpose of examining the land around [illegible] springs, which recently has been included within the reservation limits by executive proclamation, and ascertaining whether that land is really necessary to the Indians. The land in question is that for which Senator Logan's son-in-law and others filed applications in the general land office some time ago, when it was supposed to be part of the public domain. It has been asserted that this land is of the utmost importance to the Zunis, because it contains springs which constitute one of their principle sources of water supply. The object of sending a special agent there is to get some accurate knowledge of the case for guidance in future action, should any further action be necessary. The persons who made formal application for the lands incurred considerable expense by so doing, and their claims, it is thought, are entitled to some consideration. If, after an investigation of the subject, the department shall be convinced that the Zunis do not need the land and were not, as a matter of legal right, fully entitled to it, the president's proclamation may perhaps be modified.

Ottoman's Robbery Case.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A series of twelve letters said to be all on file in the department of justice relative to the case of W. H. Ottoman, furnished the associated press, shows that early in 1882 this case was turned over to Bliss as special counsel for the government; that Bliss reported on it, recommending a promise of the government to dismiss its criminal and civil action against Ottoman, on the payment to the government of $11,700. Bliss said he made this recommendation with reluctance, because he believed Ottoman guilty, but the fact that the crime had been committed a long time ago and the witnesses were scattered, and that former criminal prosecutions had resulted in disappointment, led him to believe it to be impossible to convict. That while he believed money held by the government was stolen from the government he did not believe the fact could be established in court. This proposed compromise was authorized apparently by the attorney general, though there is no letter on file to that effect, and the $12,700 paid into the treasury. The litigation grew out of the fact that $47,000 was stolen from the government in 1875, and attachment on $33,000 in the bank at Alexandria, Va., in Ottman's name, was the theory that it was stolen.

The Star Route Trial.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Merrick continued his attack upon Dorsey and his defense of Rerdell in the star route trial this morning.

Ingersoll, referring to the Chico letter, said Rerdell, the government's own witness, had sworn that it was written in 1878, and Dorsey was then at Chico Springs.

Merrick exclaimed that was "the last plank of the drowning pirates—the only plank."

Ingersoll, who had become somewhat excited, shook his finger at Merrick and retorted, "Rerdell is your last plank, and you will sink with your plank—a rotten plank."

The court declared the proceedings out of order, and even disorderly, and a lively passage ensued between the counsel upon reference by Merrick to the "J. B. D." check, who finally appealed to the court for protection from the eternal growls and snarls of the other side, without settling the point, which hinged upon a disputed point of evidence. The court then adjourned.

Attorney General Brewster was in court to-day.

Personal Effects of the Late Jerome J. Collins.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Dr. Collins of Minneapolis, Minnesota, visited the navy department to-day in his capacity as administrator of the estate of his brother, the late Jerome J. Collins, naturalist with the Jeannette Arctic search expedition. He received from the navy department officials a few personal effects, papers, etc., of his brother, which were found upon his body and which have since remained in the custody of the department.

Commission to Inspect the Northern Pacific.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The president has appointed Benjamin Butterworth of Ohio, Wm. A. [illegible] of New York, and Charles L. Perkins of New York, a commission to examine seventy-five miles of the Northern Pacific railroad in Montana, fifty miles of the same road extending westward on the Yellowstone division, and twenty-five miles extending eastward in Missoula.

Some of the Navy Yards to be Closed.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Secretary Chandler said to-day that he is expecting the report from the navy yard board very shortly, and the result will be that some of the navy yards will be closed before the 1st of July. He would not say which ones. They would be generally understood. Mare Island navy yard would not be troubled.

Indian Chiefs at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—White Wolf, Big Bow and Sun Bear, representing the Kiowa and Comanche tribes in the Indian territory, had a conference with the secretary of the interior to-day, respecting the boundaries of their reservation.

DR. C. McLANE'S
Celebrated Liver Pills.

In offering to the public Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, as a remedy for Liver and Bilious Complaints, we presume no apology will be needed. The great prevalence of Liver Complaint and Bilious Diseases of all kinds throughout the United States, and particularly in the West and South, where, in the majority of cases, the patient is not within the reach of a regular physician, requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be safe and effectual. That such is the character of Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, there can be no doubt. The great success which has invariably attended their use, will, we think, be sufficient to convince the most incredulous. It has been our sincere wish that these Pills should be fairly tested, and stand or fall by the effects produced. That they have been so tested and that the result has been in every respect favorable, we call tens of thousands to witness who have experienced their beneficial effects.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS are not held forth or recommended, (like most of the popular medicines of the day), as universal cure-alls, but simply as a specific for Liver Complaints, and those symptoms connected with a deranged state of that organ.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY
Pat. Nov. 11, '79, and Nov. 8, '81.

THESE BELTS CURE DISEASES THAT MEDICINE aggravates and makes worse. It fills the blood with Electricity; its power strengthens the entire body. Hundreds of the leading physicians are using and recommending these Belts. This modern improved belt not only restores the debilitated, weak and emaciated system to full health, but it enhances in both sexes, the pleasures of life, sexually, mentally and physically. It grapples with disease, and overcomes it by transforming electricity into the weakened life forces, and thus restoring health and vigor. Whenever any debility of the generative organs occurs, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of ELECTRICITY permeating through the parts must restore them to healthy action. There is no mistake about this instrument. Years of use have tested it, and thousands of cures are certified to. Weakness from indiscretion, incapacity, lack of vigor, sterility—in fact, any trouble of these organs are cured. It also conducts the current all over the outside of the body, thus removing all external ailments of nerve and muscles arising from disease. THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 7, 1883.

THE MATTER OF NAMES.

A correspondent writing from Seattle whose letter we print this morning, deplores the fact that so many of the streams and localities of Washington territory bear their original Indian names. He considers these names as "largely heathenish orthographic impossibilities," and fears that they will actually impede the progress of the country. Seattle alone he excepts from the wholesale condemnation. We fear that our correspondent, in his rage with "Skookum Chuck," "Wahkiakum" and "Nesquallum," has forgotten that these are the exceptions, and that names easily spelled, easily pronounced, highly significant and really euphonious are the rule. For example, "Tacoma," "Puyallup," "Walla Walla," "Yakima," "Kalama," "Pataha," "Snoqualmie," "Ilwaco," and we might add hundreds of others. How much finer and more distinctive is "Tumwater" than "Priest's rapids," "Spokane" than "Salmon river," "Claquato prairie" than "Union flat." All these names mean something and give to their localities a distinction that common names could not. After them how insignificant appear "Muck," "Unity," "Pekin," "Springville," "Cedarville," "Rosalia," etc.

Our correspondent says that "this country may some day be ambitious of building up a literature of its own, but such efforts will always be hampered by the blemish of unpronounceable names. A sorry time would he have who undertook to 'speed Pegasus' here." Quite the reverse, we think. Even the few difficult Indian names will, after long usage, become easy and natural. We doubt not that "Narragansett," "Cayuga" and "Skeneateles" stuck harshly on the Puritan larynx 200 years ago, but their descendants pronounce them easily enough and honor the discrimination and taste of ancestors, who retained them instead of fastening on the country meaningless or borrowed titles. Every eastern town, which bears an Indian name, is distinguished by it, and the names and the meanings back of them are matters of local pride. Back of every Indian name there is a tradition which the name will keep alive. No theme has so well inspired American poetry as that of Indian tradition, and "Hiawatha" and other performances owe much of their unique charm to the very jargon of names over which our correspondent fears Pegasus will stumble.

In a few years, when Indian legend, which is now quite too common a commodity in this country to have much value, is forgotten, except as it lives in names, Washington Territory, through its Indian nomenclature, will afford to the literary artist an exhaustless mine of romantic data; and the literature based upon it will be distinctively the literature of the state of Washington. Nothing so denotes intellectual poverty in a people as poor names. The community which cannot find a name for its postoffice without borrowing the worn and meaningless one of some eastern village must be poor indeed in mental resources. A name is an important thing. It lasts forever. Singular it is that words, composed of fleeting sounds, live longer than monuments of brass and iron. We regret that so few of the original Indian names have been preserved in Oregon. The folly which has made "Umpqua" for "Douglas," that came near throwing away "Multnomah," in order to pay a political compliment, and which has grafted "Amity," "McMinnville," "Muddy," "Jacksonville," "Clarksville," "Brownsville," etc., or hundreds of places which might have been better named, cannot be excused. That our five great snow peaks are known by the commonplace titles of Hood, Adams, Rainier, St Helens and Jefferson, instead of their fine original names which carried the idea of rude grandeur in their accents, is scarcely less than an outrage.

THE FREIGHT OUTLOOK.

Scarcely less interesting at this time than the harvest outlook is the tonnage prospect, for upon the supply or lack of tonnage the price of wheat very largely depends. The tonnage "in sight" bound for the Columbia river, about this time last year, was (including that in port and disengaged) about 44,000 registered tons. This year there is about 6000 tons more. The amount of tonnage last year was just about equal to the demand, or perhaps a little in excess. The crop last year was small in comparison to what we look for this year. These facts, taken into consideration with the immense California crop now considered certain, and variously estimated at from 1,200,000 to 1,400,000 tons, and with a better tone all over the world in freights, point directly to the conclusion that at about the close of the present year, say in November and December, there will be a scarcity of tonnage here, unless freights advanced to a much better figure than what could now be obtained.

Portland, as a seaport, should endeavor to keep up her dignity, and not depend on Tacoma or San Francisco for tonnage to carry the wheat which should pass out from the Columbia river, and it is only reasonable to expect that she will pay rates which will place her in successful competition with San Francisco. If she cannot induce shipowners to send ships here at the rates they can get from San Francisco, then she will have to pay the old difference of about 10s. per ton, which will just about cover the difference in the expense of a 1400 register ship. Last season the rates of freight from Portland, were for a short period as low as those current at the time in San Francisco, but this season the face of things has completely changed. There is nothing analogous in the freight situation. The wheat season of 1881-'82 was one of the best ever known on the Pacific coast. Ship owners who had vessels in this trade then reaped a harvest and many of the fortunate ones thinking that they might be equally successful the following year, pointed their vessels to the North Pacific in the hope of meeting with equally good business. The result is well known. There was an immense surplus of tonnage offering all through the season, and through a season of small shipments comparatively speaking.

This was not the only cause of a superfluity of tonnage on this coast last year. Freights all over the world, (with the exception of the North Atlantic for a short season,) were miserably low, and ship owners had to look to the Pacific to a great extent for employment. This year the situation has completely changed. There will, it is expected, be more wheat from California and the northwest than ever before. Tonnage can now find employment in other parts of the world at rates which will compare favorably with those current, and with what is being paid for future loading; and if we take what is now being paid in Calcutta and what may be reasonably expected in the future (as well as in other eastern ports, which have the preference invariably over this coast at less rates), the tonnage in Rio, River Platte, China, Japan and Australia will look elsewhere for employment unless rates advance on this coast.

The frost which destroyed young fruit in western Oregon did not extend so far south as the Rogue river valley, and the fruit crop there will be the largest for years. Apples and peaches, particularly, promise well. The O. & C. R. R. will have advanced to within thirty miles of Jacksonville by August, so that fruit may easily be shipped to us from there. Douglas county is now supplying this market with strawberries, and later in the season Jackson county will send us apples and peaches. It's a fine thing to have prosperous neighbors.

Farmers throughout the Willamette valley are anxious for rain, which would greatly benefit late sown fields.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The Fourth of July committee is engaged actively in the work of preparation for the grand celebration, and, incidentally, in collecting funds to defray the expenses. Our people are now manifesting a liberal spirit and $3000, about half of the sum desired, has been subscribed. It is thought that there will be no difficulty in securing the whole amount. Arrangements are being made on a scale which will make this the grandest demonstration the northwest has ever seen. The celebration proper will continue through three days, each of which will be distinguished by some important special feature. It is desired in the broadest sense to make the demonstration a representative one, and all parts of Oregon and Washington will be represented in the procession and in other features. Whatever uncertainty has been felt in regard to the presence of the military was set at rest yesterday by receipt of the following note from Gen. H. A. Morrow, commandant at Vancouver barracks. To the committee he says:

Gentlemen: Your note of [illegible] In reply, General Miles has returned, and after consultation with him, I am able to say that he enters very fully in feeling into the proposition for a grand celebration in Portland on the 4th, 5th and 6th days of July, and will do anything in his power to help make it a success. I will bring over the troops at Vancouver barracks, and place them in camp in Portland on or before the 1st of July, and will participate in all your ceremonies. I am not able at this moment to say whether a sham battle can be arranged for or not, but I think it possible that this may be done. I will write you further on this hereafter.

This assures the success of the celebration. The several companies at Vancouver and the ordnance are of themselves an attraction worth traveling far to see. The attendance will doubtless number thousands and hotel keepers should take time by the forelock in preparing for their entertainment. The selections of orator, reader, president of the day, poet, marshals, etc., will soon be made.

Referring to an article on this page, it may be said that some funny mistakes have occurred from the enthusiasm of eastern people in choosing Indian names. An instance occurred at Kalama a few years ago. While the N. P. R. R. hotel was in process of building, Gen. Sprague cast about for a name, and hearing that an old Indian chief (in tradition no Indian is less than a chief) named Kazano had once lived on the site of the new house, gave it his name. Imagine the general's disgust upon learning some months after the christening that old Kazano was so called because of his filthy habits. An equally amusing incident occurred last year. Three engineers in the service of the O. R. & N. Co., named Mix, Kennedy and Chalk, camped for some time at the mouth of Meacham creek, in Umatilla county, and when their camp ground was laid out as a station on the new line the name "Mikecha" was given it. The name was made after this fashion:

Mi-|x
Ke-|nnedy
Cha|lk

When the name was announced, an Oregonian reporter, fond of a joke, stated that its origin was uncertain, but that it was evidently Indian; and called upon old timers to give its signification. Various and learned were the answers to this appeal. "Mickekcha" was said by one to mean "running stream," by another "the place of peace," by still another "fertile land," etc. It was a good joke, but the reporter enjoyed it all to himself and only recently made the exposure.

JUDGE BALLERAY RISES TO EXPLAIN.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

I think it my duty to notice a statement made in The Oregonian by its local correspondent at Baker City, in which he accuses me of prosecuting the defendant in the case of the state vs. Swayze. I wish simply to state the fact, and readers may draw their own conclusions. The grand jury of Baker county returned two indictments against Swayze for larceny of cattle. On the trial of the first indictment, after the state had rested, on motion of defendant's counsel, I charged the jury that there was not sufficient evidence to show a felonious intent on the part of the defendant and directed them to acquit him, which they did.

On the trial of the second indictment the jury convicted the defendant, who admitted taking the cow mentioned in the indictment, knowing that it was not his, but tried to claim that it was a custom to take cattle not branded when found on the range, evidence of which custom was excluded. There were but two exceptions taken on the trial, by the defendant, besides the exceptions he took to the charge, which charge was put in writing for defendant's benefit, and his counsel allowed one day in which to except, instead of being held to the rule which requires exceptions to be taken before the jury retires. Could the rulings have been very strongly against defendant on the trial, when he took but two exceptions?

The court sentenced defendant to imprisonment for one year in the penitentiary, while it was in the power of the court to sentence him for fifteen years, and then the court filed a certificate of probable cause of appeal, and stayed the judgment till the cause could be heard in the supreme court, instead of sending the defendant at once to the penitentiary, which the court could have done, and which, indeed, has been the invariable rule in this district, Judges McArthur and Wilson never having stayed the execution of a judgment on a conviction of felony while they were on the bench, to my knowledge, or so far as I can learn from the oldest lawyers in the district. These are the facts as they appear on record, and the conclusions may be drawn by whoever may wish to draw them.

The jury, all of whom were my personal friends, were doubtless surprised to learn how badly they were treated. As to the witnesses, I did fine one gentleman who kept the court waiting for him forty minutes while he was visiting a saloon down town, and I will do that again whenever an opportunity presents itself.

In conclusion, I will add that I know the source of the unkind attack, and appreciate how annoying it is to be unsuccessful in practice, but we think the appeal should be taken to the supreme court, not to a newspaper, when an attorney is unsuccessful; and let me say, Mr. Editor, that I have no unkindly feeling toward the author of the little bit of spleen. Such minds do not merit condemnation, but rather commiseration. I am, with much consideration,

Yours truly, JOHN J. BALLERAY.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Washington Territory.

Houses are so scarce at Olympia that new comers pitch tents in which to live.

The loggers at and near Olympia marketed in April 3,[illegible] feet of timber, and in May 5,684,522 feet.

H. Barnes publishes a letter in the Walla Walla Statesman, claiming that he was justified in shooting at Hansen.

Hedwig Spiekorn, the young German girl who was to marry Heinrich Kirchner, at Tacoma, has arrived there, but has not as yet been informed of his death.

United States Marshal Hopkins, who was taken down with congestion of the lungs last week, is in an improving condition, and will probably be out again in a few days.

A young Indian named Thomas fell from a freight train near Marshall, Tuesday afternoon. The cars passed over both of his feet. He was taken to Spokane and both feet amputated.

William H. Ames, who on Friday of last week shot himself in the head with a revolver, in his room at Snohomish City, was a native of Maine, a lumberman by calling, and had been in the country about a year. He leaves two brothers at Snohomish City, but no other relatives. He was aged 25 years.

Eastern Oregon.

Mr. Riffe, the stage driver between here and Blalock's, says the Heppner Gazette, tells us that all along Rock creek the farmers are cutting enormous crops of grain hay, and between Willow creek and Blalock's they are cutting bunch grass hay and getting a ton to the acre.

Pendleton East Oregonian: The past few days have been very windy, and the dust is flying along the highways in clouds. The crops in most localities are not suffering much yet, but will be affected if there is not rain during this month. Some of the wheat near Weston has attained such a growth that the farmers fear it will give them trouble by "lodging."

Idaho.

J. H. Hayes, residing seven miles east of Moscow, had his hands and face burned by a powder explosion. His clothing, as well as some furniture in the room, were on fire, and the roof was raised one inch by the explosion.

CROP REPORTS.

Crops in the Ohio Valley.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—From reports of the acreage and condition of wheat, corn and other crops in Indiana and Illinois to June 1, it is shown that in Indiana 4 per cent. of the acreage of wheat was plowed up and put to other crops in May, and the per cent. of the remainder is 80 of an acreage crop. Two per cent. above the average acreage of corn was planted, and the condition of the plant is 78 per cent. Oats, 95 per cent. for acreage and 91 for condition. Illinois: Wheat plowed up, 20 per cent., and condition of the remainder 77 per cent. [illegible] the corn acreage is 101 per cent., and the condition 71; oats, area 99, condition 100 per cent. Ohio: Wheat plowed up, 10 per cent., condition of the remainder 82 per cent.; corn, area 111 per cent.

Crop Reports from One Thousand Townships.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The Farmers' Review, condensing its weekly reports from 1000 townships in the northwest and the southwest, finds no improvement in the report in winter wheat. It is decidedly short. Spring wheat shows an improvement. Oats are backward, but all right. Corn is coming out very slowly, and replanting is general.

SEATTLE'S PRAISES.

SEATTLE, June 4, 1883.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

As I am one of those who take a [illegible] interest in [illegible] I take the liberty of sending you a few notes from the Queen City. The progress and prospects of this section, together with the local news, are so well looked after, however, by the local press that there is little left for the letter writer to add. [illegible] Seattle aspires, desires and prepares to be the principal city of the northwest [illegible] city. But having outgrown its [illegible] [illegible] Lake Washington [illegible]

[illegible] It has a pretty name, and for Washington territory, that is saying a great deal. To the [illegible] Indian names that apply to many of the streams and localities of this section is due [illegible] the progress of the country not a little. A [illegible] would possibly [illegible] as well as by some other name, but for all that I'm convinced there is much in a name. Especially do I object to such gibberish, guttural and orthographic impossibilities as are often met with on the Sound. This country may some day be ambitious of building up a literature of its own, but such efforts will always be hampered by the blemish of unpronounceable names. A sorry time would he have who undertook to "speed Pegasus" here. No Iliad or Æneid could be born amid names so unmusical. Ordinary business, though, is less fastidious in its tastes and will not haggle much over the choice of names, so the final result is translatable in dollars and cents.

There is one thing that evokes [illegible] dissatisfaction and the dissatisfaction of every [illegible] in Seattle, and that is its miserable apology for a postoffice. When we subscribe for Portland papers and expect to receive them on the day of publication, we are predestined to be sadly disappointed. The papers come through all right, but after they are once lodged in the Seattle postoffice it is a matter of time to get them out. I have never, as yet, succeeded in obtaining mine until the third day after publication and even then the process is a laborious one. You have to take your place at the foot of a line of people extending to the furthest corner of the building, and slowly, tediously work your way up to the delivery window, of which there is but one in the office. This one delivery window is kept open the fewest possible hours the law will allow, and no extraneous exertion to accommodate the public is considered necessary or legal. Laboring men cannot count on any benefits from the office unless they lose a day for the purpose of getting their mail, or induce some friend to inquire for them. Here is a chance, it seems to me, for civil service or some other kind of reform. Our local papers, fortunately, are very enterprising in the way of furnishing the latest news, or we would be very badly circumstanced. If it were not for them the world might come to an end and we not hear of it till the third day after the general smash-up. The newspaper embargo at the postoffice is therefore an advantage, in one respect, to the local press.

The amount of reading matter received here is evidence that the people of Seattle have a craving in that direction even in the midst of business excitement and speculation. Then the Y. M. C. A. of Seattle has an excellent library and reading room that are open and free to the public; and the reading matter is not restricted to religious tracts and temperance publications, either, but is such as will meet the literary cravings of most all sensible minds. In the library may be met the works of the standard poets, as well as tomes of theology. Many of the leading newspapers and best magazines of the country are to be found on the tables. A public library is also connected with the university. So you may see Seattle is not alone the home of the real estate agent. Other interests and affairs of life are looked after. We have free thinkers and street preachers, lawyers and judges and captains till you can't rest, and hotel runners who go down on the wharf and yell themselves hoarse even when their houses are all full and running over. 54-40.

MR. SCOTT'S ADDRESS.

FOREST GROVE, June 6, 1883.

To the Daily Oregonian:

I had the pleasure of being present last evening at the annual meeting of the alumni of Pacific university. A prominent feature of the exercises was the address by Mr. Harvey Scott, the first graduate of the school. After a few words of welcome and congratulation to his friends and classmates of the past twenty years, and an appropriate tribute to the memory of Mr. Harvey Clarke, who long ago sacrificed his share of this world's goods to lay the material foundation of the institution, and that of Rev. Sidney H. Marsh, who unselfishly gave his life to the promotion of its subsequent spiritual and intellectual growth, the speaker gave us some interesting thoughts and suggestions on the subject of what is sometimes called "classical" and "practical" education. The benefit of a classical education was aptly and forcibly stated. In this material which constitutes its routine are bound up the past history of the race; and by this light may we most surely read its future. Our ideas or notions of law, ethics, religion and morals are derived from the experience of the past, and without our traditional and recorded knowledge of this experience we would still grope in the twilight of barbarism.

The utilitarian idea of education would limit our attention to things called "practical," and in so doing separate the present from the past, and thus confine our little lives to the thinking and doing of things merely "useful."

At this point he quoted with fine effect the burst of indignant eloquence to which King Lear replies to the mean suggestion of his daughter, Goneril, that he had no longer any "need" to maintain his kingly following:

"O, reason not the need: our basest beggars
Are in the poorest things superfluous;
Allow not nature more than nature needs,
Man's life is cheap as beast's."

The discourse might be called discursive, and contained good thoughts and suggestions on other phases of the subject of higher education and culture, that will justify its publication in your columns at an early day. D.

French Residents.—A meeting of the French residents will be held on Sunday, June 10, at 2 P. M., at Mr. Drouilhat's house, 8 Morrison street. Object: Approval of the programme prepared by the committee for the celebration of the 14th of July. A full attendance is expected. By order of the President. HY. P. TYSON, Secretary.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.—[illegible] was arrested last night by Detective Barry and Hudson on a charge of robbing [illegible] Rolfe [illegible]. Chesebrough was seen at the [illegible] [illegible] stated that he [illegible] to the [illegible] wagon, and it became necessary to remove a piece of woodwork of the wagon top. Chesebrough [illegible] went back to the store to look for a screwdriver, and not finding the [illegible] up stairs, where he spoke to a [illegible] at work there, and as there was no screwdriver there he came down and back to the store, where he found the [illegible] the safe. He took it to the [illegible] and found that the obstruction had already been removed. He says he is a true man and no thief. The circumstances, however, are against him. [illegible] the safe was discovered just after he left, the drawer had been taken out and carried into the [illegible] room and its contents. There appears to be no possibility of any one else having had a chance to take the drawer except himself. Chesebrough is an elderly man, his hair and beard quite gray. He came here from California some time since.

GRAND MISTAKE.—An item appeared in the Telegram last evening stating that an order had been given by the managers of the Oregon Iron and Steel Works for the erection of 300 cottages at Oswego. An OREGONIAN reporter interviewed several of the managers of the Iron and Steel Company last evening who stated that the item was a mistake and that there existed no foundation in fact for the statement made. The accommodation for the laborers employed at the blast furnace now in operation at Oswego is not sufficient, and the subject of building a few little cottages has been discussed. It was said that such cottages as desired would cost $125. An architect was asked if a cottage of the kind wanted could be built for any less, and he replied that he thought not. He was then asked if by building four at the same time they could be constructed for any less, and he replied that they possibly might. This conversation was all that was said in regard to the building of cottages at Oswego, and by some mistake or misapprehension the Telegram reporter was led to infer that 300 cottages had been ordered constructed. He might have made a greater mistake, but it is difficult to imagine how.

BASE BALL.—The contingent of the athletic matters and about which a lot of young men who are interested in out-door sports, are on the qui vive, is the first of the championship games of baseball between Portland's two rival clubs, the "Stars" and the "Portlands," announced to come off next Sunday at City View Park. Each club is the favorite of about an equal number of people in the city, and the friendly rivalry between them adds greatly to the interest of the coming contest. The grounds, although new are in fine condition, and weather permitting, a great game may be expected. A series of games between these clubs are to be played, extending throughout the season, the championship to be awarded to the victors in the greatest number of contests. As often as possible games will be arranged with clubs from outside cities, and one of these is already announced. On Saturday afternoon, June 23, the Salem club will meet the Portlands on the City View grounds. The Salems are said to be a strong team and will try the mettle of the home team.

ARRANGING FOR THE FOURTH.—The committee of arrangements held an adjourned meeting at the office of A. E. Borthwick, Esq., 127½ First street, which has been designated as the headquarters of that committee. The meeting was largely attended. The various sub-committees reported progressing favorably, and two hours were occupied in arranging the details of the celebration. It was reported that some person, whose identity could not be established, had attempted to collect funds for the Grand Army at the bank of British Columbia. The committee desire to inform the public generally that the members of the finance committee are alone authorized to collect funds for the celebration. Their names are: Wm. Kapus, F. K. Arnold, N. S. Pierce, Geo. C. Sears, A. E. Borthwick and T. G. Davidson. Arrangements have been made with Prof. George Hughes, the noted pyrotechnist, for a grand display of fireworks. Enthusiastic responses from a great many localities in the interior were read, promising a large attendance during the 3d, 4th and 5th of July.

AGAINST THE SHERIFF.—The case of the merchants of this city, judgment creditors of the late firm of Gallick & Walters of Oregon City, vs. the sheriff of Clackamas county comes up in the circuit court of that county to-day. Sometime since the firm failed and some of their creditors in this city attached the goods and obtained judgments. The firm then made an assignment, and the sheriff then turned the goods in his charge over to the assignee. The judgment creditors now bring suit against the sheriff for wrongfully turning over the goods. As the sheriff is a party to the suit, the duty of summoning a jury will devolve on the coroner of the county, and a sharp watch will have to be kept on that official to prevent him from sitting on the litigants.

U. S. SURVEYS IN WASHINGTON.—Surveyor General McMicken informs us that the U. S. surveys will be extended up the Colville valley in eastern Washington this summer, and over a considerable portion of the celebrated "bench lands" of the Columbia, which extend from Kettle falls, at the mouth of the Colville, toward camp Spokane. This will open up to settlers a large extent of rich meadow land in the Colville valley and the valuable fruit lands of the Columbia. Surveys will also be extended into the Yakima country as far as possible.

HORSE SALE.—A small band of horses, fresh from bunch grass, were sold at auction by O'Connor yesterday. They were fine-looking animals, of medium size, but totally unbroken. The prices they brought ranged from $60 to $80. After the sale the animals were driven to a vacant block down town, where an effort was made to catch them for their purchasers. In this operation much time was spent, as the spirited animals were as agile as goats and eluded the lasso with great dexterity. There will be lots of fun in this section before they are broken in for use.

BIG LAND COMPANY.—Articles incorporating the Spokane Land and Improvement Company, an organization of Washington, D. C., capitalists, who purpose to speculate in lands in the Spokane country, were filed in Olympia last Monday. Capital stock, $100,000. G. E. Cummings of Washington, D. C., who represents the company, is in the city. Mr. McArthur of Fargo is now in the Big Bend country in the interest of the company. They have already purchased over $10,000 worth of town lots in Spokane Falls.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—Mrs. J. S. George of No. 226 First street, a cutlery store, was attacked yesterday in the store by an unknown man, who attempted to hold a bottle of chloroform to her nose. She eluded him, however, and ran into the street blowing a police whistle. The man ran off before anyone could stop him. Mrs. George, after giving the alarm, fell fainting to the sidewalk. Dr. Blaney was called and resuscitated the unconscious woman. He said at once that she had been exposed to some powerful anesthetic.

ARM BROKEN.—A. H. Tallent, foreman of the Western Union Telegraph Company's force building a line between Palouse Junction and Colfax, suffered a broken arm several days ago. He was erecting a pole during a strong wind, which blew the pole down, catching him under it. Tallent arrived here yesterday and was taken to St. Vincent's, where Dr. Jones attended him.

EXAMINATION.—The regular annual examination began yesterday at the Bishop Scott grammar school. The examinations are public, and will be held from 9 till 12 on Thursday, Friday and Monday. The friends of the school and the public in general are invited to attend. The closing exercises will take place on Tuesday, June 12.

BRIEF MENTION.

Democratic primaries are announced to be held next Wednesday evening at the polling places in each ward.

The weather was uncommonly warm yesterday all up the Willamette valley. The crops are beginning to need rain again.

The case of the state vs. Hunter and Nolan, charged with assault on Garwood, was tried before Justice Greene yesterday and taken under advisement. Fashion is mighty and will prevail.

Frank Scott, the hotel proprietor, who was arrested as an absconding debtor, has been released on a writ of habeas corpus that bulwark of human liberty. Scott says his indebtedness is unavoidable, he has no intention to defraud his creditors and will not leave the city.

John Clary, a youthful logger, has caused the arrest of William Beatty, charging him with larceny from the person. Clary and Beatty were "out on a tear," and when Clary woke up both his money and Beatty were gone. Beatty swears that Clary spent his money in buying wine for fast women. Judge Moreland will examine into the matter to-day.

The various fish dealers of this city have found it difficult thus far this season to obtain salmon enough to supply their customers, notwithstanding that they have had a large number of boats in their employ. Within the past week the catch has so much increased that several boats have been discharged by dealers. The fish coming to market are very fine and large and the catch all along the river consists of much larger fish than usual.

JUDGES OF ELECTION.

The council last night appointed the following judges and clerks of election.

First ward—F. Opitz, Geo. H. Flanders and J. C. Carson; clerks—H. McCraken and W. Stephens.

Second ward—Geo. F. Wells, Geo. H. Durham and Andrew Roberts; clerks—R. M. Dement and B. G. Whitehouse.

Third ward—J. C. Moreland, J. A. Strowbridge and Peter Taylor; clerks—A. N. Gambell and W. J. Kelly.

Polling places are as follows:

First ward—South east corner of Fourth and A.

Second ward—Corporation shed, Fourth street.

Third ward—No. Four engine house.

PERSONAL.

Henry Pape, foreman of the Jacksonville Times, is in the city.

Frank Reed, who was recently hurt by the breaking of an emery wheel, is rapidly recovering and expects to be out soon.

Captain E. W. Bleadel of the Continental Railroad and Navigation Company, arrived in town yesterday, and leaves this morning for the Sound.

ENGROSSED ORDINANCES.

To change and establish the grade of Jefferson street; passed.

The ordinance granting to the Transcontinental Street Railway Company the right to construct and operate a line on Thirteenth street, from G to S, and on S, from Thirteenth to Sixteenth, came up for a third reading.

E. J. Jeffery, representing the Multnomah Street Railway Company, who have a franchise for Fifteenth street, from B to S, asked permission to address the council, which was granted. He said that he had no protest to offer against another company building a line parallel to his, but he did object to them nosing in ahead by building one block beyond the Multnomah Company's terminus. Their evident intention was to injure the Multnomah Company without benefiting the public. He was willing to extend his line northward as soon as a street was improved even as far as the bone-yard, and would do it this summer if he had a street to run on. If the council desired more service in the north end, it would be no more than just to allow the company which had the first franchise the first opportunity to serve. This courtesy was granted even to Joe Holladay in the matter of the First-street extension. He was quite willing to take chances with the Transcontinental Company in securing the passenger traffic, but he did not want to be hemmed in.

Hewett offered an amendment striking out that part of the franchise which related to S street, thus making the terminus on Thirteenth and S.

The amendment was lost by a vote of five to four, as follows: Ayes—Adams, Hewett, Kellogg and Scoggins. Noes—Chittenden, Holman, Honeyman, Mackay and Smith.

The ordinance was then passed by a vote of six to three, Adams, Kellogg and Scoggins voting in the negative.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were passed:

Granting sixty days additional time to E. J. Jeffery & Co. and the P. M. & P. Co. for the completion of North Ninth and North Fifteenth street improvements.

Granting thirty days additional time to E. J. Jeffery & Co. to complete J street improvement.

Appointing J. P. O. Lowndale, R. L. Durham and F. Opitz viewers in the proposed lateral extension of North Third street, from A to North Front.

Declaring the office of poundmaster vacant, and instructing the chief of police to detail an officer to act in his stead pro tem.

Instructing the city surveyor to make the necessary surveys for connecting the soundings to the Willamette river from Weidler's sawmill to the northern boundary of the city, and to report the same to the council, together with a map of the wharf line.

Giving notice of the following street improvements:

Mill street, from Front to East Park, by macadamizing roadway full width and laying side and crosswalks.

Twelfth street, from B to Montgomery, in the same manner.

Eleventh street, from B to Montgomery, in the same manner.

Montgomery street, from Sixth to Thirteenth, in the same manner.

S street, from Thirteenth to Twenty-second, by constructing gutters.

Adjourned.

THE SUICIDE OF FRANK MAGRAFT.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

MONMOUTH, June 5.

To-day at 12:30 P. M., Frank Magraft, a farmer living three-quarters of a mile south of this place, put an end to his existence by shooting himself. From the evidence before the coroner's jury it appears that he had been complaining of headache for some days, and troubled about the road supervisor's office, to which he had been appointed. A few days previous to his death he told his wife that he had a potion to end his existence. Yesterday his wife went to a neighbor's and left him at home, when she sent a boy to tell him to come to dinner. The boy found him in the wood shed, standing with his gun behind him. He told the boy he did not go to dinner, as he intended to shoot himself, and to tell his wife to come home immediately. From all appearances he put the gun in his mouth and used the ramrod to fire it off. When found his skull was broke in.

The American Mills Ready-Raising Flour.

[illegible] Portland, Oregon.

THE CITY OF SALEM COMPANY.

Description of their Mills at the Capital—Capacity of 750 Barrels of Flour a Day.

[illegible]

The company has erected a new wharf for river steamers, above which there is a two-story warehouse [illegible] [illegible] The company's local trade in Oregon and Washington territory is very large, but of course it depends greatly upon the European markets for the success in the future. The two largest individual stock holders are William Stuart, manufacturer, Musselburgh, Scotland, and William Reid, [illegible] here. There are a larger number of smaller stock holders in Dundee and in Salem. When the legislature of Oregon in 1856 passed an act authorizing the waters of the Santiam river to be conveyed by canal to Mill creek and thence to Salem it did not anticipate the great benefits to be conferred on manufactories at Salem. The City of Salem Co.'s water fall being so high above the Willamette river that even on the highest stages of the river in winter its "B" Mill will keep running. The erection of these two flouring mills was planned and commenced by William Reid eighteen months ago and it is a pleasure to the stock holders to know they are now successively completed and in running operation. The company has recently been reconstructed, W. J. Burns, Wm. Dunbar and Jonathan Bourne, Jr., having retired from the directorate, William N. Ladue, vice president, and John Hughes, director at Salem of the First National Bank, having taken their places on the board. The business will be continued under the presidency of William Reid as formerly, William N. Ladue as secretary and John Hughes as the agent at Salem, in place of Geo. Suiel, who has been removed to Portland to take charge of the company's business here in place of Wm. Dunbar, the company's intention being to conduct its own business here and on the Pacific coast through officers devoted entirely to its interests.

A MISSIONARY TOUR.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., June 2.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Will you please give your readers the following programme of the travel and lectures of Miss Adele M. Fields, a returned Baptist missionary recently from Swatow, China, who has thrilled so many hearts in California during the past month. She has been for eighteen years in the employ of the American Foreign Missionary Union, having first gone to Bangkok, Siam, with the expectation of marriage, but arrived to find that her intended had been three weeks dead. She took his place in the mission and has labored assiduously ever since. She sailed on the Dakota June 1 for Seattle, but will, for the sake of reaching as many public meetings as possible, take the following route:

Thursday, June 7.....Portland, First Baptist church.
Friday, June 8.....The Dalles, Or.
Saturday, June 9.....Walla Walla, W. T.
Monday, June 11.....Portland Chinese Mission.
Tuesday, June 12.....McMinnville College.
Wednesday, June 13.....Return to East Portland.
Thursday, June 14.....Seattle, W. T.
Friday, June 15.....Puget Sound Association.
Tuesday, June 19.....Seattle.
Wednesday, June 20.....New Tacoma.
Thursday, June 21.....Port and.
Friday, June 22.....
.....Oregon City for Willamette Association.
Monday, June 25.....Oregon City.
Tuesday, June 26.....Albany.
Wednesday, June 27.....Salem.
Thursday, June 28.....Portland.
Friday, June 29.....Astoria.

All the Baptists and many others will be interested in these lectures, which will be for the purpose of cultivating a missionary spirit.

The lady will be accompanied by Mrs. Judge Greene of Seattle.

D. J. PIERCE,
Pastor Baptist church, Seattle.

REPUBLICAN SCOT SPEAKS AGAIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

A perusal of the letter signed, "A Choleric Scot," in your issue of Tuesday, confirms the opinion that Scotland, like every other place, produces cranks, but I was always under the impression that they were kept at home and not allowed to wander to foreign lands, to cause reproach on their country's name. I am not sure but that there is a regulation in force which forbids the importation of deranged people into the United States, and it is a mystery how your correspondent managed to pass the authorities on his embarkation at Scotland and his landing at New York, as the author of such an epistle surely could not conceal his crankiness from the sharp eyes of the officers. Of him we can say as the maid said to the Apostle Peter, after he denied his Lord, "Thy speech betrayeth thee." The letter is pointless—a mass of high-sounding nonsense, which would much better be left unsaid. He declines to discuss any of the points raised, for the simple reason that he there be nor any other person can gainsay them. They are self-apparent to all.

For the information of this irascible scribe I may say that my views have not been formed in consideration of any fat benefice, but are principles which I have held and maintained long before I saw Oregon. I prefer a republic before a monarchy, because I think it is more in accordance with the principles of justice and the spirit of a progressive age. It is a theme which every citizen has a right to discuss and a subject which affects neither the dignity nor the principles of any intelligent man.

YAQUINA BAY NOTES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEWPORT, June 2.

The Katie and Annie is lying in port awaiting the return of Captain Lutjens.

Bagly's sawmill was sold at forced sale. Alonzo Case is the purchaser, at $1400.

Pleasure seekers have commenced to arrive, and the streets are beginning to have a business appearance.

Real estate transactions are lively just now. Olsen last week sold fourteen lots in the addition to Newport.

The firm of Thompson & Kline have changed hands. Mr. Thompson retiring. The new firm name is Kline & Son.

Last week the men on government work took advantage of the low tides and constructed 500 feet of the breakwater.

William Hogue of the Oregon Pacific railroad is in the city. Joseph Reedman is registered at the Ocean house. He is here attending to the shipping of the spars.

Captain Charles Lutjens took passage on the tug for Coos bay, where he will take charge of a small steamer, and will take her to Gray's harbor, where she will be used as a passenger boat.

The citizens of Newport have concluded to celebrate, and will have all the usual exercises on such occasions—such as balls, skiff and sailboat races, the greased hog and wheelbarrow races, and last, but not least, a grand promenade on the ocean beach.

The tug Fearless of Coos bay took the D. S. Williams to sea this evening at 8:30 o'clock. She was drawing thirteen feet and had 145 spars aboard, ranging from fifty to seventy feet long. When across the bar the tug signaled everything all right. Eighteen feet on bar, three-quarter tide.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 7, 1883.

THE MATTER OF NAMES.

A correspondent writing from Seattle, whose letter we print this morning, deplores the fact that so many of the streams and localities of Washington territory bear their original Indian names. He considers these names as "hugely heathenish orthographic impossibilities," and fears that they will actually impede the progress of the country. Seattle alone he excepts from this wholesale condemnation. We fear that our correspondent, in a rage with "Skookum Chuck," "Wahkiakum" and "Newaukum," has forgotten that these are the exceptions, and that names easily spelled, easily pronounced, highly significant and really euphonious are the rule. For example, "Tacoma," "Puyallup," "Walla Walla," "Yakima," "Kalama," "Palouse," "Snoqualmie," "Alwaco," and we might add hundreds of others. How much finer and more distinctive is "Tumwater" than "Priest's rapids," "Spokane" than "Salmon river," "Claquato prairie" than "Union flat." All these names mean something and give to their localities a distinction that common names could not. After them how insignificant appear "Muck," "Unity," "Pekin," "Springville," "Cedarville," "Rosalia," etc.

Our correspondent says that "this country may some day be ambitious of building up a literature of its own, but such efforts will always be hampered by the blemish of unpronounceable names. A sorry time would he have who undertook to 'speed Pegasus' here." Quite the reverse, we think. Even the few difficult Indian names will, after long usage, become easy and natural. We doubt not that "Narragansett," "Cayuga" and "Skaneatales" stuck harshly on the Puritan larynx 200 years ago, but their descendants pronounce them easily enough and honor the discrimination and taste of ancestors, who retained them instead of fastening on the country meaningless or borrowed titles. Every eastern town, which bears an Indian name, is distinguished by it, and the names and the meanings back of them are matters of local pride. Back of every Indian name there is a tradition which the name will keep alive. No theme has so well inspired American poetry as that of Indian tradition, and "Hiawatha" and other performances owe much of their unique charm to the very jargon of names over which our correspondent fears Pegasus will stumble.

In a few years, when Indian legend, which is now quite too common a commodity in this country to have much value, is forgotten, except as it lives in names, Washington Territory, through its Indian nomenclature, will afford to the literary artist an exhaustless mine of romantic data; and the literature based upon it will be distinctively the literature of the state of Washington. Nothing so denotes intellectual poverty in a people as poor names. The community which cannot find a name for its postoffice without borrowing the worn and meaningless one of some eastern village must be poor indeed in mental resources. A name is an important thing. It lasts forever. Singular it is that words, composed of fleeting sounds, live longer than monuments of brass and iron. We regret that so few of the original Indian names have been preserved in Oregon. The folly which put aside "Umpqua" for "Douglas," that came near throwing away "Multnomah" in order to pay a political compliment, and which has grafted "Amity," "McMinnville," "Muddy," "Jacksonville," "Clarksville," "Brownsville," etc., or hundreds of places which might have been better named, cannot be excused. That our five great snow peaks are known by the commonplace titles of Hood, Adams, Rainier, St. Helens and Jefferson, instead of their fine original names which carried the idea of rude grandeur in their accents, is scarcely less than an outrage.

THE FREIGHT OUTLOOK.

Scarcely less interesting at this time than the harvest outlook is the tonnage prospect, for upon the supply or lack of tonnage the price of wheat very largely depends. The tonnage "in sight" bound for the Columbia river, about this time last year, was (including that in port and disengaged) about 44,000 registered tons. This year there is about 6000 tons more. The amount of tonnage last year was just about equal to the demand, or perhaps a little in excess. The crop last year was small in comparison to what we look for this year. These facts, taken into consideration with the immense California crop now considered certain, and variously estimated at from 1,200,000 to 1,400,000 tons, and with a better tone all over the world in freights, point directly to the conclusion that at about the close of the present year, say in November and December, there will be a scarcity of tonnage here, unless freights advanced to a much better figure than what could now be obtained.

Portland, as a seaport, should endeavor to keep up her dignity, and not depend on Tacoma or San Francisco for tonnage to carry the wheat which should pass out from the Columbia river, and it is only reasonable to expect that she will pay rates which will place her in successful competition with San Francisco. If she cannot induce shipowners to send ships here at the rates they can get from San Francisco, then she will have to pay the old difference of about 10s. per ton, which will just about cover the difference in the expense of a 1400 register ship. Last season the rates of freight from Portland were for a short period as low as those current at the time in San Francisco, but this season the face of things has completely changed. There is nothing analagous in the freight situation. The wheat season of 1881-'82 was one of the best ever known on the Pacific coast. Ship owners who had vessels in this trade then reaped a harvest and many of the fortunate ones thinking that they might be equally successful the following year, pointed their vessels to the North Pacific in the hope of meeting with equally good business. The result is well known. There was an immense surplus of tonnage offering all through the season, and through a season of small shipments comparatively speaking.

This was not the only cause of a superfluity of tonnage on this coast last year. Freights all over the world, (with the exception of the North Atlantic for a short season,) were miserably low, and ship owners had to look to the Pacific to a great extent for employment. This year the situation has completely changed. There will, it is expected, be more wheat from California and the northwest than ever before. Tonnage can now find employment in other parts of the world at rates which will compare favorably with those current, and with what is being paid for future loading; and if we take what is now being paid in Calcutta and what may be reasonably expected in the future (as well as in other eastern ports, which have the preference invariably over this coast at less rates), the tonnage in Rio, River Platte, China, Japan and Australia will look elsewhere for employment unless rates advance on this coast.

The frost which destroyed young fruit in western Oregon did not extend so far south as the Rogue river valley, and the fruit crop there will be the largest for years. Apples and peaches, particularly, promise well. The O. & C. R. R. will have advanced to within thirty miles of Jacksonville by August so that fruit may easily be shipped to us from there. Douglas county is now supplying this market with strawberries, and later in the season Jackson county will send us apples and peaches. It's a fine thing to have prosperous neighbors.

Farmers throughout the Willamette valley are anxious for rain, which would greatly benefit late sown fields.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The Fourth of July committee is engaged actively in the work of preparation for the grand celebration, and, incidentally, in collecting funds to defray the expenses. Our people are now manifesting a liberal spirit and $7000, about half of the sum desired, has been subscribed. It is thought that there will be no difficulty in securing the whole amount. Arrangements are being made on a scale which will make this the grandest demonstration the northwest has ever seen. The celebration proper will continue through three days, each of which will be distinguished by some important special feature. It is desired in the broadest sense to make this demonstration a representative one, and all parts of Oregon and Washington will be represented in the procession and in other features. Whatever uncertainty has been felt in regard to the presence of the military was set at rest yesterday by receipt of the following note from Gen. H. A. Morrow, commandant at Vancouver barracks. In this communication he says:

GENTLEMEN: Your note is at hand, and I hasten to reply. General Miles has returned and after consultation with him, I am able to say that he enters very fully in feeling into the preparations for a grand celebration in Portland on the 4th, 5th and 6th days of July, and will do anything in his power to help make it a success. I will bring over the troops at Vancouver barracks, and place them in camp in Portland on or before the 1st of July, and I will participate in all your ceremonies. I am not able at this moment to say whether a sham battle can be arranged for or not, but it is quite possible that this may be done. I will write you further on this hereafter.

This assures the success of the celebration. The several companies at Vancouver and the ordinance, are of themselves, an attraction worth traveling far to see. The attendance will doubtless number thousands and hotel keepers should take time by the forelock in preparing for their entertainment. The selections of orator, reader, president of the day, poet, marshals, etc., will soon be made.

Referring to an article on this page, it may be said that some funny mistakes have occurred from the enthusiasm of eastern people in choosing Indian names. An instance occurred at Kalama a few years ago. While the N. P. R. R. hotel was in process of building Gen. Sprague cast about for a name, and hearing that an old Indian chief (in tradition no Indian is less than a chief) named Kazano had once lived on the site of the new house, gave it his name. Imagine the general's disgust upon learning some months after the christening that old Kazano was so called because of his filthy habits. An equally amusing incident occurred last year. Three engineers in the service of the O. R. & N. Co., named Mix, Kennedy and Chalk, camped for some time at the mouth of Meacham creek, in Umatilla county, and when their camp ground was laid out as a station on the new line the name "Milkcha" was given it. The name was made after this fashion:

Mi | x
Ke | nnedy
Cha | lk

When the name was announced, an OREGONIAN reporter, fond of a joke, stated that its origin was uncertain, but that it was evidently Indian; and called upon old timers to give its signification. Various and learned were the answers to this appeal. "Milkekcha" was said by one to mean "running stream," by another "the place of peace," by still another "fertile land," etc. It was a good joke, but the reporter enjoyed it all to himself and only recently made the exposure.

JUDGE BALLERAY RISES TO EXPLAIN.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

I think it my duty to notice a statement made in THE OREGONIAN by its local correspondent at Baker City, in which he accuses me of prosecuting the defendant in the case of the state vs. Swayze. I wish simply to state the fact, and readers may draw their own conclusions. The grand jury of Baker county returned two indictments against Swayze for larceny of cattle. On the trial of the first indictment, after the state had rested, on motion of defendant's counsel, I charged the jury that there was not sufficient evidence to show a felonious intent on the part of the defendant and directed them to acquit him, which they did.

On the trial of the second indictment the jury convicted the defendant, who admitted taking the cow mentioned in the indictment, knowing that it was not his, but tried to claim that it was a custom to take cattle not branded when found on the range, evidence of which custom was excluded. There were but two exceptions taken on the trial, by the defendant, besides the exceptions he took to the charge, which charge was put in writing for defendant's benefit, and his counsel allowed one day in which to except, instead of being held to the rule which requires exceptions to be taken before the jury retires. Could the rulings have been very strongly against defendant on the trial, when he took but two exceptions?

The court sentenced defendant to imprisonment for one year in the penitentiary, while it was in the power of the court to sentence him for fifteen years, and then the court filed a certificate of probable cause of appeal, and stayed the judgment till the cause could be heard in the supreme court, instead of sending the defendant at once to the penitentiary, which the court could have done, and which, indeed, has been the invariable rule in this district. Judges McArthur and Wilson never having stayed the execution of a judgment on a conviction of felony while they were on the bench, to my knowledge, or so far as I can learn from the oldest lawyers in the district. Those are the facts as they appear on record, and the conclusion may be drawn by whoever may wish to draw them.

The jury, all of whom were my personal friends, were doubtless surprised to learn how badly they were treated. As to the witnesses, I did fine one gentleman who kept the court waiting for him forty minutes while he was visiting a saloon down town, and I will do that again whenever an opportunity presents itself.

In conclusion, I will add that I know the source of the unkind attack, and appreciate how annoying it is to be unsuccessful in practice, but we think the appeal should be taken to the supreme court, not to a newspaper, when an attorney is unsuccessful; and let me say, Mr. Editor, that I have no unkindly feeling toward the author of this but a bit of spleen. Such minds do not merit condemnation, but rather commiseration. I am, with much consideration,

Yours truly, JOHN J. BALLERAY.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Washington Territory.

Houses are so scarce at Olympia that new comers pitch tents in which to live.

The loggers at and near Olympia marketed in April 3,746,498 feet of timber and in May 5,034,422 feet.

H. Barnes publishes a letter in the Walla Walla Statesman, claiming that he was justified in shooting at Hanson.

Hedwig Spinkers, the young German girl who was to marry Heinrich Kirchner, at Tacoma, has arrived there, but has not as yet been informed of his death.

United States Marshal Hopkins, who was taken down with congestion of the lungs last week, is in an improving condition, and will probably be out again in a few days.

A young Indian named Thomas fell from a freight train near Marshall, Tuesday afternoon. The cars passed over both of his feet. He was taken to Spokane and both feet amputated.

William H. Ames, who on Friday of last week shot himself in the head with a revolver, in his room at Snohomish City, was a native of Maine, a lumberman by calling, and had been in the country about a year. He leaves two brothers at Snohomish City, but no other relatives. He was aged 25 years.

Eastern Oregon.

Mr. Riffe, the stage driver between here and Blalock's, says the Heppner Gazette, tells us that all along Rockcreek the farmers are cutting enormous crops of grain hay, and between Willow creek and Blalock's they are cutting bunchgrass hay and getting a ton to the acre.

Pendleton East Oregonian: The past few days have been very windy, and the dust is flying along the highways in clouds. The crops in most localities are not suffering much yet, but will be affected if there is not rain during this month. Some of the wheat near Weston has attained such a growth that the farmers fear it will give them trouble by "lodging."

Idaho.

J. H. Hayes, residing seven miles east of Moscow, had his hands and face burned by a powder explosion. His clothing, as well as some furniture in the room, were on fire, and the roof was raised one inch by the explosion.

CROP REPORTS.

Crops in the Ohio Valley.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—From reports of the acreage and condition of wheat, corn and other crops in Indiana and Illinois to June 1, it is shown that in Indiana 8 per cent. of the acreage of wheat was plowed up and put to other crops in May, and the per cent. of the remainder is 86 of an acreage crop. Two per cent. above the average acreage of corn was planted, and the condition of the plant is 78 per cent. Oats, 95 per cent. for acreage and 92 for condition. Illinois: Wheat plowed up, 26 per cent., and condition of the remainder 57 per cent.; the corn acreage is 105 per cent., and the condition 71; oats, area 99, condition 1[illegible] per cent. Ohio: Wheat plowed up, 10 per cent.; condition of the remainder, 62 per cent.; corn, area 10[illegible] per cent.

Crop Reports from One Thousand Townships.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The Farmer's Review, condensing its weekly reports from 1000 townships in the northwest and the southwest, finds a[n] improvement in the report in winter wheat. It is heading out short. Spring wheat shows an improvement. Oats are backward, but all right. Corn is coming out very slowly, and replanting is general.

SEATTLE'S PRAISES.

SEATTLE, June 4, 1883.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

As THE OREGONIAN is still able to keep up a tangible existence, notwithstanding the [illegible] opposition, I take the liberty of sending you a few notes from the Queen city. The progress and prospects of this section, together with the local news, are so well looked after, however, by the local press that there is little left for the letter writer to add. The world at large is not left in ignorance of the fact that Seattle aspires, desires and prepares to be the coming great city of the northwest, and with considerable [illegible] at present are particularly bright and [illegible] [illegible] has plenty of area and money [illegible] advantages [illegible] its first [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] city. But having outgrown its first [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Lake Washington [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] pretty well toward [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] present, but they are coming at the rate of 500 a day. With railroad connections completed, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Seattle is naturally [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the most charming and [illegible] [illegible] It has a pretty name, [illegible] for Washington territory, that is saying a great deal. The "heathenish orthographic impossibilities" that applies to many of the streams and local features [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the progress of the country not a little. A rose might possibly "smell just as sweet" by some other name," but for all that there is much in a name. Especially do I object to such gibberish, guttural[s] and orthographic impossibilities we are often met with on the Sound. This country may some day be ambitious of building up a literature of its own, but such efforts will always be hampered by the blemish of unpronounceable names. A sorry time would he have who undertook to "speed Pegasus" here. No Iliad or Aeneid could be sung amid names so mangled. Ordinary business, though, is less fastidious in its tastes and will not haggle much over the choice of names so the final result is translatable in dollars and cents.

There is one other thing that evokes my dissatisfaction and the dissatisfaction of every citizen of Seattle, and that is the miserable travesty of a postoffice. When we subscribe for Portland papers and expect to receive them on the day of publication we are predestined to be sadly disappointed. The papers come through all right, but after they are once lodged in the Seattle postoffice it is a matter of time to get them out. I have never, as yet, succeeded in obtaining mine until the third day after publication—and even then the process is a serious one. You have to take your place at the foot of a line of people extending to the farthest corner of the building, and slowly, tediously work your way up to the delivery window, of which there is but one in the office. This one delivery window is kept open the fewest possible hours the law will allow, and no extraneous exertion to accommodate the public is considered necessary or legal. Laboring men cannot count on any benefits from the office unless they lose a day for the purpose of getting their mail, or induce some friend to inquire for them. Here is a chance, it seems to me, for civil service or some other kind of reform. Our local papers, fortunately, are very enterprising in the way of furnishing the latest news, or we would be very badly circumstanced. If it were not for them, the world might come to an end and we not hear of it till the third day after the general smash-up. The newspaper embargo at the postoffice is therefore an advantage, in one respect, to the local press.

The amount of reading matter received here is evidence that the people of Seattle have a craving in that direction even in the midst of unusual excitement and speculation. Then the Y. M. C. A. at Seattle has an excellent library and reading room that are open and free to the public; and the reading matter is not restricted to religious tracts and temperance publications, either, but is such as will meet the literary cravings of most all sensible minds. In the library may be met the works of the standard poets, as well as tomes of theology. Many of the leading newspapers and best magazines of the country are to be found on the tables. A public library is also connected with the university. So you may see Seattle is not alone the home of the real estate agent. Other interests and affairs of life are looked after. We have free thinkers and street preachers, lawyers and judges and captains till you can't rest, and hotel runners who go down on the wharf and yell themselves hoarse even when their houses are all full and running over. 54-40.

MR. SCOTT'S ADDRESS.

FOREST GROVE, June 6, 1883.

To the Daily Oregonian:

I had the pleasure of being present last evening at the annual meeting of the alumni of Pacific university. A prominent feature of the exercises was the address by Mr. Harvey Scott, the first graduate of the school. After a few words of welcome and congratulation to his friends and classmates of the past twenty years, and an appropriate tribute to the memory of Mr. Harvey Clarke, who long ago sacrificed his share of this world's goods to lay the material foundation of the institution, and that of Rev. Sidney H. Marsh, who unselfishly gave his life to the promotion of its subsequent spiritual and intellectual growth, the speaker gave us some interesting thoughts and suggestions on the subject of what is sometimes called "classical" and "practical" education. The benefit of a classical education was aptly and forcibly stated. In the material which constitutes its routine are bound up the past history of the race; and by this light has we most surely read its future. Our ideas or notions of law, ethics, religion and morals are derived from the experience of the past, and without our traditional and recorded knowledge of this experience we would still grope in the twilight of barbarism.

The utilitarian idea of education would limit our attention to things called "practical," and is an doing separate the present from the past, and, thus confine our little lives to the thinking and doing of things merely "useful."

At this point he quoted with fine effect the burst of indignant eloquence in which King Lear replies to the mean suggestion of his daughter, Goneril, that he had no longer any "need" to maintain his kingly following:

> "O, reason not the need: our basest beggars
> Are in the poorest things superfluous;
> Allow not nature more than nature needs,
> Man's life is cheap as beast's."

The discourse might be called discursive, and contained good thoughts and suggestions on other phases of the subject of higher education and culture, that will justify its publication in your columns at an early day. C.

Charged with Robbery.—G. E. Crossborough was arrested last night by Detective Barry and Hudson on a charge of robbing the safe of J. H. Robbins of [illegible]. Crossborough was seen at the city jail by a reporter of this paper. He denies all knowledge of the robbery and tells rather a peculiar story. He has of late been engaged with [illegible] Portland in peddling cream. They [illegible] dozen [illegible] first and last from Mr. Robbins, and disposed of them. Yesterday he and [illegible] took [illegible] went to [illegible] place to [illegible] Portland. While there they concluded to take [illegible] One of them would not go into the wagon, and it became necessary to remove a piece of wood across the wagon top. Crossborough says he went back to the store to look for a screwdriver, and not finding one went up stairs, where he spoke to a gilder at work there, and as there was no screwdriver up there he came down and back into the store, where he found one under the safe. He took it to the door and found that the obstruction had already been removed. He says he is a free man and [illegible]. The circumstances, however, are against him. The robbery of the safe was discovered just after he left. The drawer had been taken out and carried into the back room and robbed of its contents. There appears to be no possibility of any one else having had a chance to take the drawer except himself. Crossborough is an elderly man, his hair and beard quite gray. He came here from California some time ago.

Grand Mistake.—An item appeared in the Telegram last evening stating that an order had been given by the managers of the Oregon Iron and Steel Works for the erection of 50 [illegible] cottages at Oswego. An Oregonian reporter interviewed several of the managers of the Iron and Steel Company last evening, who stated that the item was a mistake and that there existed no foundation in fact for the statement made. The accommodation for the laborers employed at the blast furnace now in operation at Oswego is not sufficient, and the subject of building a few little cottages has been discussed. It was said that such cottages as desired would cost $125. An architect was asked if a cottage of the kind wanted could be built for any less, and he replied that he thought not. He was then asked if by building four at the same time they could be constructed for any less, and he replied that they possibly might. This conversation was all that was said in regard to the building of cottages at Oswego, and by some mistake or misapprehension the Telegram reporter was led to infer that 50 cottages had been ordered constructed. He might have made a greater mistake, but it is difficult to imagine how.

Base Ball.—The coming event in athletic matters and about which all young men who are interested in out-door sports, are on the qui vive, is the first of the championship games of base ball between Portland's two rival clubs, the "Stars" and the "Portlands," announced to come off next Sunday at City View Park. Each club is the favorite of about an equal number of people in the city, and the friendly rivalry between them adds greatly to the interest of the coming contest. The grounds, although new are in fine condition, and weather permitting, a great game may be expected. A series of games between these clubs are to be played, extending throughout the season, the championship to be awarded to the victors in the greatest number of contests. As often as possible games will be arranged with clubs from outside cities, and one of these is already announced. On Saturday afternoon, June 23, the Salem club will meet the Portlands on the City View grounds. The Salems are said to be a strong team and will try the mettle of the home team.

Arranging for the Fourth.—The committee of arrangements held an adjourned meeting at the office of A. E. Borthwick, Esq., 127½ First street, which has been designated as the headquarters of that committee. The meeting was largely attended. The various sub-committees reported progressing favorably, and two hours were occupied in arranging the details of the celebration. It was reported that some person, whose identity could not be established, had attempted to collect funds for the Grand Army at the bank of British Columbia. The committee desire to inform the public generally that the members of the finance committee are alone authorized to collect funds for the celebration. Their names are: Wm. Kapus, F. K. Arnold, W. B. Pierce, Geo. C. Sears, A. E. Borthwick and T. G. Davison. Arrangements have been made with Prof. George Hughes, the noted pyrotechnist, for a grand display of fireworks. Enthusiastic responses from a great many localities in the interior were read, promising a large attendance during the 3d, 4th and 5th of July.

Against the Sheriff.—The case of the merchants of this city, judgment creditors of the late firm of Gallick & Walters of Oregon City, vs. the sheriff of Clackamas county comes up in the circuit court of that county to-day. Some time since the firm failed and some of their creditors in this city attached the goods and obtained judgments. The firm then made an assignment, and the sheriff then turned the goods in his charge over to the assignee. The judgment creditors now bring suit against the sheriff for wrongfully turning over the goods. As the sheriff is a party to the suit the duty of summoning a jury will devolve on the coroner of the county, and a sharp watch will have to be kept on that official to prevent him from sitting on the litigants.

U. S. Surveys in Washington.—Surveyor General McMicken informs us that the U. S. surveys will be extended up the Colville valley in eastern Washington this summer, and over a considerable portion of the celebrated "bench lands" of the Columbia, which extend from Kettle falls, at the mouth of the Colville, toward camp Spokane. This will open up to settlers a large extent of rich meadow land in the Colville valley and the valuable fruit lands of the Columbia. Surveys will also be extended into the Yakima country as far as possible.

Horse Sale.—A small band of horses fresh from bunch grass, were sold at auction by O'Connor yesterday. They were fine-looking animals, of medium size, but totally unbroken. The prices they brought ranged from $60 to $80. After the sale the animals were driven to a vacant block down town, where an effort was made to catch them for their purchasers. In this operation much time was spent, as the spirited animals were as agile as goats and eluded the lasso with great dexterity. There will be lots of fun in this section before they are broken fit for use.

Big Land Company.—Articles incorporating the Spokane Land and Improvement Company, an organization of Washington, D. C., capitalists, who purpose to speculate in lands in the Spokane country, were filed in Olympia last Monday. Capital stock, $100,000. G. E. Cummings of Washington, D. C., who represents the company is in the city. Mr. McArthur of Fargo is now in the Big Bend country in the interest of the company. They have already purchased over $10,000 worth of town lots in Spokane Falls.

Attempted Robbery.—Mrs. J. R. George of No. 226 First street, a cutlery store, was attacked yesterday in the store by an unknown man, who attempted to hold a bottle of chloroform to her nose. She eluded him, however, and ran into the street blowing a police whistle. The man ran off before anyone could stop him. Mrs. George, after giving the alarm, fell fainting to the sidewalk. Dr. Bianey was called and resuscitated the unconscious woman. He said at once that she had been exposed to some powerful anesthetic.

Arm Broken.—A. H. Tallent, foreman of the Western Union Telegraph Company's force building a line between Palouse Junction and Colfax, suffered a broken arm several days ago. He was erecting a pole during a strong wind, which blew the pole down, catching him under it. Tallent arrived here yesterday and was taken to St. Vincent's, where Dr. Jones attended him.

Examination.—The regular annual examination began yesterday at the Bishop Scott grammar school. The examinations are public, and will be held from 9 till 12 on Thursday, Friday and Monday. The friends of the school and the public in general are invited to attend. The closing exercises will take place on Tuesday, June 12.

BRIEF MENTION.

Democratic primaries are announced to be held next Wednesday evening at the polling places in each ward.

The weather was uncommonly warm yesterday all up the Willamette valley. The crops are beginning to need rain again.

The case of the state vs. Hunter and Nolan, charged with assault on Garwood, was tried before Justice Greene yesterday and taken under advisement. Fashion is mighty and will prevail.

Frank Scott, the hotel proprietor, who was arrested as an absconding debtor, has been released on a writ of habeas corpus, that bulwark of human liberty. Scott says his indebtedness is unavoidable, he has no intention to defraud his creditors and will not leave the city.

John Clary, a youthful logger, has caused the arrest of William Beatty, charging him with larceny from the person. Clary and Beatty were "out on a tear," and when Clary woke up both his money and Beatty were gone. Beatty swears that Clary spent his money in buying wine for fast women. Judge Moreland will examine into the matter to-day.

The various fish dealers of this city have found it difficult thus far this season to obtain salmon enough to supply their customers, notwithstanding that they have had a large number of boats in their employ. Within the past week the catch has so much increased that several boats have been discharged by dealers. The fish coming to market are very fine and large and the catch all along the river consists of much larger fish than usual.

JUDGES OF ELECTION.

The council last night appointed the following judges and clerks of election.

NEW ORDINANCES.

Widening North Seventh street from A to North Front; passed.

Making an appropriation of $130 out of the general fund for the improvement of G street, between North Twentieth and Twenty-second streets; passed.

Providing time and manner of improving Jefferson streets between Twelfth and Thirteenth; passed.

Establishing the grade of North Twenty-first street; read twice.

Providing time and manner of improving North Twentieth street from F to J; passed.

Declaring it a nuisance to have decaying meat within the city limits; read twice and referred to committee on health and police.

Declaring probable cost of improving Clay street and making necessary appropriations; read twice.

Declaring probable cost of improving Tenth street and making necessary appropriation; passed.

Declaring probable cost of improving H street and making necessary appropriation; read twice.

Declaring cost of improving North Ninth street and making necessary appropriation; read twice.

Declaring probable cost of improving South First and Fifth streets and making necessary appropriation; passed.

Declaring probable cost of improving Eighth street and making appropriation; passed.

Providing time and manner of improving Ninth street, from Washington to Main and from Main to Market; passed.

ENGROSSED ORDINANCES.

To change and establish the grade of Jefferson street; passed.

The ordinance granting to the Transcontinental Street Railway Company the right to construct and operate a line on Thirteenth street, from G to S, and on S, from Thirteenth to Sixteenth, came up for a third reading.

E. J. Jeffery, representing the Multnomah Street Railway Company, who have a franchise for Fifteenth street, from B to S, asked permission to address the council, which was granted. He said that he had no protest to offer against another company building a line parallel to his, but he did object to them tying in ahead by building one block beyond the Multnomah Company's terminus. Their evident intention was to injure the Multnomah Company without benefiting the public. He was willing to extend his line northward as soon as a street was improved even as far as the bone-yard, and would do it this summer if he had a street to run on. If the council desired more service in the north end, it would be no more than just to allow the company which had the first franchise the first opportunity to serve. This courtesy was granted even to Joe Holladay in the matter of the First-street extension. He was quite willing to take chances with the Transcontinental Company in securing the passenger traffic, but he did not want to be hemmed in.

Hewett offered an amendment striking out that part of the franchise which related to S street, thus making the terminus on Thirteenth and S.

The amendment was lost by a vote of five to four, as follows: Ayes—Adams, Hewett, Kellogg and Scoggins. Noes—Chittenden, Holman, Honeyman, Mackay and Smith.

The ordinance was then passed by a vote of six to three, Adams, Kellogg and Scoggins voting in the negative.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were passed:

Granting sixty days additional time to E. J. Jeffery & Co. and the P. M. & P. Co., for the completion of North Ninth and North Fifteenth street improvements.

Granting thirty days additional time to E. J. Jeffery & Co. to complete J street improvement.

Appointing J. P. O. Lownsdale, R. L. Durham and F. Opitz viewers in the proposed lateral extension of North Third street, from A to North Front.

Declaring the office of poundmaster vacant, and instructing the chief of police to detail an officer to act in his stead pro tem.

Instructing the city surveyor to make the necessary surveys for connecting the soundings in the Willamette river from Weidler's sawmill to the northern boundary of the city, and to report the same to the council, together with a map of the wharf line.

Giving notice of the following street improvements:

Mill street, from Front to East Park, by macadamizing roadway full width and laying side and crosswalks.

Twelfth street, from B to Montgomery, in the same manner.

Eleventh street, from B to Montgomery, in the same manner.

Montgomery street, from Sixth to Thirteenth, in the same manner.

S street, from Thirteenth to Twenty-second, by constructing gutters.

Adjourned.

THE SUICIDE OF FRANK MAGGART.

[From the Oregonian's Local Correspondent.]

Monmouth, June 5.

To-day at 12:30 P. M., Frank Maggart, a miner living three quarters of a mile south of this place, put an end to his existence by shooting himself. From the evidence before the coroner's jury it appears that he had been complaining of headache for some days, and troubled about [illegible]. A few days previous to his death he told his wife that he had a notion to end his existence. Yesterday his wife went to a neighbor's and left him at home, when she sent a boy to tell him to come to dinner. The boy found him in the wood shed, standing with his gun [illegible]. He told the boy he could not go to dinner, as he intended to shoot himself, and to tell his wife to come home immediately. From all appearances he put the gun in his mouth and used the ramrod to fire it off. When found he was [illegible].

POLICE COURT.

Henry Mill[illegible] charged with [illegible].

[illegible]

Wm. Beatty, charged with the larceny of $1 from the person of John Clary, entered a plea of not guilty and waived his examination [illegible].

John Ryan and Richard D[illegible], arrested for drunkenness, plead guilty and were each fined $10.

[illegible] charged with the same offense, claimed that he was a sailor, and that he had worked the night previously, and, being very sleepy, fell asleep upon a [illegible], where Officer Branch found him at 4 o'clock this morning. The judge passed the case for the present.

Would not be without Redding's Russia Salve is the verdict of all who use it.

THE CITY OF SALEM COMPANY.

Description of their Mills at the Capital—Capacity of 750 Barrels of Flour a Day.

The City of Salem company's large "B" mill at Salem is now in full operation, with a capacity to [illegible]

[illegible]

The company has erected a new wharf for river steamers, above which there is a new warehouse, [illegible]

[illegible]

The total cost of the company's improvements, including extensive river front and 185 acres of land within the city of Salem, and water rights and franchises, was $193,749, with a present capacity of 750 barrels of flour per day, capable of being increased to 1150 barrels at a trifling expense; the machinery being all of the latest style, which turns out the finest flour as yet produced in Oregon.

The company's local trade in Oregon and Washington territory is very large, but of course it depends greatly upon the European markets for its success in the future. The two largest individual stockholders are William Stuart, manufacturer, Musselburgh, Scotland, and William Reid, banker, here. There are a larger number of smaller stockholders in Dundee and in Salem. When the legislature of Oregon in 1856 passed an act authorizing the waters of the Santiam river to be conveyed by canal to Mill creek and thence to Salem it did not anticipate the great benefits to be conferred on manufactories at Salem. The City of Salem Co.'s water fall being so high above the Willamette river that even on the highest stages of the river in winter its "B" Mill will keep running. The erection of these two flouring mills was planned and engineered by William Reid eighteen months ago and it is a pleasure to the stockholders to know they are now successively completed and in running operation. The company has recently been reconstructed. W. J. Burns, Wm. Dunbar and Jonathan Bourne, Jr., having retired from the directorate, William S. Ladue, vice president, and John Hughes, director at Salem of the First National Bank, having taken their places on the board. The business will be continued under the presidency of William Reid as formerly, William S. Ladue as secretary and John Hughes as the agent at Salem, in place of Geo. Shiel, who has been removed to Portland to take charge of the company's business here in place of Wm. Dunbar, the company's intention being to conduct its own business here and on the Pacific coast through officers devoted entirely to its interests.

A MISSIONARY TOUR.

Port Townsend, W. T., June 2.

To the Editor of The Oregonian.

Will you please give your readers the following programme of the travel and lectures of Miss Adele M. Fielde, a returned Baptist missionary recently from Swatow, China, who has thrilled so many hearts in California during the past month. She has been for eighteen years in the employ of the American Foreign Missionary Union, having first gone to Bangkok, Siam, with the expectation of marriage, but arrived to find that her intended had been three weeks dead. She took his place in the mission and has labored assiduously ever since. She sailed on the Dakota June 1 for Seattle, but will, for the sake of reaching as many public meetings as possible, take the following route:

Thursday, June 7	Portland, First Baptist church.
Friday, June 8	The Dalles, Or.
Saturday, June 9	Walla Walla, W. T.
Monday, June 11	Portland Chinese Mission.
Tuesday, June 12	McMinnville College.
Wednesday, June 13	Return to East Portland.
Thursday, June 14	Seattle, W. T.
Friday, June 15	Puget Sound Association.
Tuesday, June 19	Seattle.
Wednesday, June 20	New Tacoma.
Thursday, June 21	Portland.
Friday, June 22	Oregon City for Willamette Association.
Monday, June 25	Oregon City.
Tuesday, June 26	Albany.
Wednesday, June 27	Salem.
Thursday, June 28	Portland.
Friday, June 29	Astoria.

All the Baptists and many others will be interested in these lectures, which will be for the purpose of cultivating a missionary spirit.

The lady will be accompanied by Mrs. Judge Greene of Seattle.

D. J. PIERCE,
Pastor Baptist church, Seattle.

REPUBLICAN SCOT SPEAKS AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

A perusal of the letter signed, "A Choleric Scot," in your issue of Tuesday, confirms the opinion that Scotland, like every other place, produces cranks, but I was always under the impression that they were kept at home and not allowed to wander to foreign lands, to cause reproach on their country's name. I am not sure but that there is a regulation in force which forbids the importation of deranged people into the United States, and it is a mystery how your correspondent managed to pass the authorities on his embarkation at Scotland and his landing at New York, as the author of such an epistle surely could not conceal his crankness from the sharp eyes of the officers. Of him we can say as the maid said to the Apostle Peter, after he denied his Lord, "Thy speech betrayeth thee." The letter is pointless—a mass of high-sounding nonsense, which would much better be left unsaid. He declines to discuss any of the points raised, for the simple reason that neither he nor any other person can gainsay them. They are facts apparent to all.

For the information of this irascible scribe I may say that my views have not been formed in consideration of any fat benefice, but are principles which I have held and maintained long before I saw Oregon. I prefer a republic before a monarchy because I think it is more in accordance with the principles of justice and the spirit of a progressive age. It is a theme which every citizen has a right to discuss and a subject which affects neither the dignity nor the principles of any intelligent man.

A REPUBLICAN SCOT.

BENTON COUNTY NEWS.

[From the Oregonian's Local Correspondent.]

Corvallis, June 6.

Wild strawberries are abundant.

A daily stage will be run over the Yaquina road on and after the 1st inst.

The citizens of Newport have raised several hundred dollars for a celebration on Independence day.

Hon. B. F. Burch of Polk and Hon. R. S. Strahan of Albany, trustees of the agricultural college, are in town.

C. H. [illegible] of the Corvallis [illegible] has almost completed arrangements for connecting the town of Yaquina and Newport by wire.

[illegible], who has been connected with the Yaquina [illegible], arrived in town last evening. He will visit various points in the valley before his return.

A large force of workmen are employed in overhauling the Corvallis flour mills. The latest improvements will be introduced and the capacity of the mill enlarged.

The following officers of Valley Lodge, No. 11, K. of P., have been elected for the ensuing term: B. F. Irvine, C. C.; M. L. Baker, V. C.; W. P. Keady, K. R. S.; C. [illegible] Rayburn, P.; W. H. Lash, M. of E.; W. G. Campbell, M. of F.

The schooner Kate and Anna is undergoing repairs at Newport. Captain Lutjens went to Umpqua, on the tug Fearless Saturday evening, and will return with the steamer Arago. From Yaquina he will sail north with both vessels, leave the schooner at Astoria and proceed to Gray's harbor with the steamer.

YAQUINA BAY NOTES.

[From the Oregonian's Local Correspondent.]

Newport, June 2.

The Katie and Annie is lying in port awaiting the return of Captain Lutgens.

Bagly's sawmill was sold at forced sale. Alonzo Case is the purchaser, at $7400.

Pleasure seekers have commenced to arrive, and the streets are beginning to have a business appearance.

Real estate transactions are lively just now. Oleson last week sold fourteen lots in the addition to Newport.

The firm of Thompson & Kline have changed hands, Mr. Thompson retiring. The new firm name is Kline & Son.

Last week the men on government work took advantage of the low tides and constructed 600 feet of the breakwater.

William Hogue of the Oregon Pacific railroad is in the city. Joseph Readman is registered at the Ocean house. He is here attending to the shipping of his spars.

Captain Charles Lutgens took passage on the tug for Coos bay, where he will take charge of a small steamer, and will take her to Gray's harbor, where she will be used as a passenger boat.

The citizens of Newport have concluded to celebrate, and will have all the usual exercises on such occasions—such as balls, skiff and sailboat races, the greased hog and wheelbarrow races, and last, but not least, a grand promenade on the ocean beach.

The tug Fearless of Coos bay took the D. S. Williams to sea this evening at 8:30 o'clock. She was drawing thirteen feet and had 145 spars aboard, ranging from fifty to seventy feet long. When across the bar the tug signaled everything all right. Eighteen feet on bar, three-quarter tide.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 7, 1883.

A CLEAR CASE.

Auburn hair inclined to curl,
Honest eyes and winning smile,
Form to set the brain a-whirl,
Lips that might a saint beguile,
That's a girl.

Taller than the maiden coy,
Truthful, fearless, handsome, strong,
Heart of gold without alloy,
Halting never twixt right and wrong,
That's a boy.

Window panes festooned with rime,
Leafless trees and hillsides bare,
Town clock's sounding midnight's chime,
Street lamps gleaming here and there;
That's the time.

Nestling at the mountain's base,
With its one long quiet street,
Clasped in winter's white embrace,
Quaint old village, prim and neat;
That's the place.

Tenant arm and shy embrace,
Tender vows in willing ear,
Kisses on an upturned face,
Whispered, "Yes, I love you, dear,"
That's the case.

CUTE CATERING.

A Joint Stock Purveying Company in New York.

New York Letter.

A new catering company is being formed to furnish families with warm meals, promptly and regularly delivered to their addresses in newly-invented wagons. It is proposed to erect a large model kitchen in the vicinity of Broadway and Thirty-fourth street, to be supplied with the best refrigerators, store-rooms, offices and apparatus for cooking, which will always be open to the inspection of patrons and stockholders, the corporation being co-operated. All supplies are to be bought in large quantities, exclusively for cash, thus insuring the lowest cost. The capital is to be $100,000, with 4000 shares at $25 each; $40,000 to be common stock, and $60,000 preferred stock, the former to be issued to the patentees as purchase price for patents, and the latter to be sold to the public at par. All meals are to be prepared of the best materials by an accomplished chief and thoroughly trained assistants, so that patrons have a far better chance of obtaining excellent meals than if those had been prepared in ordinary kitchens by ordinary servants. Each meal is to be put up at the central kitchen in a tight copper box, on silver-plated platters and dishes, made to fit the box, while steam, generated by a small heater under the wagon, keeps the meals warm and in good condition until delivered. Each family is to have a willow basket, in which the cold things are to be sent, and each wagon is to be provided with a small refrigerator, wherein butter, salads, cold meats and ice creams are to be kept. Patrons may have such food as the company may select—always a good variety, and of the best quality—or they may choose from a printed bill of fare, to be issued three days in advance, with changes of breakfast and dinner daily, and to include fruits and luxuries in season. Although the prices have not been fully decided upon, they will be about as follows for the two plans: One person per week, $12 or $14; two persons per week, $18 or $22; three, $23 or $28; four, $28 or $34; five, $33 or $40; six, $38 or $46. This may appear to be a high price, especially out of the city; but it is asserted that the amount of food served will be sufficient for at least one or two persons in each case, and that the dishes will be of the very best kind, both as respects quality and preparation. Accurate calculations having been made, it is estimated, from positive experience, that, on a basis of supplying 200 families, averaging three persons each, a handsome dividend can be declared on the stock. I have no doubt that the project is entirely feasible and might be made profitable—although I do not believe that the amount of capital named—$100,000—will be sufficient for the purpose. I should say that $250,000 at least would be required, and that twice the sum would still be better.

HANDY ONE-ARMED MEN.

How They Eat, Button Their Collars, Wash Themselves and Fix Themselves.

He was a big man, with heavy side whiskers and a military air that betokened long service under fire, and he was a one-armed man. The empty sleeve that hung at his right side told of glory sought and of peril undergone. He was seated in an Eighth street restaurant, leisurely breakfasting and going through the motions of the meal with a graceful ease that betokened a man of high-breeding.

"Never mind the knife and fork," he said, as the obsequious waiter placed these useful implements beside the savory steak that formed the basis of the meal; "I'm already provided." So saying he drew from his pocket a small morocco case and removed from it an ivory handled instrument, highly polished, that looked strikingly surgical in its spotless brilliancy. Opening this by the aid of his mouth and his remaining hand, he disclosed what proved to be a knife and fork combined. One side was a well sharpened knife, and at the ends were three broad prongs that served well the purposes of a fork. The cutting of the steak was done gracefully and thoroughly, and then his breakfast began.

By this time the writer, anxious to learn more of the devices of the one-armed man, took a seat at the same table and ordered his breakfast. His remarks on the ease and grace with which the veteran handled his conjoint knife and fork were well received and the one-armed man willingly explained some of the many devices that he and others maimed in the war resort to for self-service.

"This knife and fork," he said, "were among the first inventions for one-armed men and have been in use for many years. But we have other devices not so generally known. For instance, when I wash my face and hand I have affixed to my basin a small brush, upon which I rub my soap and thus raise the necessary suds. When I want to cut my nails, I stick a sharp knife into the table and pass them carefully around the edge of the blade. To tie my shoe in a bow-knot required long practice and no little ingenuity, but I can do it easily now. How I do it I cannot explain in words. For a long time I had great trouble in buttoning my collar, but now no button can resist me. I don't believe I swear half as much during the operation as most men who have two arms."

"Can you shave yourself?"

"Oh, yes; there's no difficulty about that. In fact, in the twenty years since Antietam, where I lost my arm, I have become almost perfect in all the little arts requisite for comfort."

A Singular Bill.

The following bill is that of an architect who was employed by the authorities of an old church in Belgium to repair some of the pictures and ornaments. The authorities, it seems, objected to paying him in a lump, and asked for details, which he accordingly supplied them with:

Correcting the Ten Commandments	$2 15
Embellishing Pontius Pilate and put new ribbon in his bonnet	3 02
Replumed and gilded the left wing of the Guardian Angel	4 18
Washed the servant of the High Priest and put carmine on his cheeks	5 12
Renewed Heaven, adjusted two stars and cleaned the Moon	7 14
Reanimated the flames of purgatory and restored souls	3 06
Revived the flames of hell, put a new tail on the Devil, mended his left foot and did several jobs for the damned	7 71
Cleaned the ears of Balaam's Ass and shoed him	3 02
Put new stone in David's sling, enlarged the head of Goliath and extended his legs	3 00
Decorated Noah's Ark	3 00
Mended the shirt of the Prodigal Son and cleaned his ears	4 06
Total	$45 46

An Animal Drinking Saloon.

Prof. Miles Rock, of the Naval Observatory, who was sent by the government to witness the transit of Venus, described his journey to Chile to a Washington audience the other night, and in speaking of the aridity of the western coast of South America, the professor said that in one place in Peru it rained about once in ten years. An Englishman had constructed there an apparatus for distilling rain water, to avoid the necessity of transporting it for miles on the backs of mules. This man's income is now $5000 per month. Attached to his distilling tank are a number of troughs, which are inclosed by a fence. This is an animal drinking saloon, and here, for ten cents, the horses, mules, etc., are admitted and can drink their fill. The professor observed that even about this saloon bummers and tramps lay in wait. Sometimes a mule would wait around the corner until the gate happened to be left open. Then he would bolt in and steal a drink. Like his human prototype, he would be driven out with curses and blows.

Our Exports.

Our exports of breadstuffs for the ten months ending with April 30th of the present year compared with the corresponding period of the preceding year, were as follows: Indian corn for 1883, 28,085,000 bushels; for 1882, 40,842,000 bushels; corn meal for 1883, 212,000 barrels; for 1882, 247,000 barrels; oats, 258,000 bushels against 481,000 bushels; rye, 1,238,000 bushels against 83,125,000 bushels; flour, 7,581,000 barrels against 4,564,000 barrels. Indian corn shows a falling off of 12,757,000 bushels; corn meal, a falling off of 35,000 barrels; oats, a falling off of 223,000 bushels; rye, an increase of 473,000 bushels; wheat, an increase of 15,290,000 bushels; flour, an increase of 3,017,000 barrels. The totals for the ten months are: For 1883, $179,738,000; for 1882, $167,319,000—increase, $12,419,000.

All Officers Reported Sick.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—A Telegram from New York reports speaking German bark McGuasie from Astoria for Queenstown with all officers and crew sick.

THE EAST SIDE.

THE NEW SCHOOL HOUSE.

The plans for the proposed school house in Stephens' addition, prepared by Noer & Lalicher, contemplate the erection of a building of no mean pretensions, both as to style and finish. It will be in the modern Gothic style of architecture, two stories high and consist of a main building, supplemented by a handsome tower with wings on either side, north and south, and a basement 8 feet high. The height of the lower story will be 14½ feet and the upper 14 feet. In the main building are two rooms on each floor and in the wings one on each, making eight in all, the average size being about 32x35. The dimensions of the main building are 40x64 and the height from the ground to the top of the tower 90 feet. The wings are 41x50 and 40 feet high. Entire length of building 174 feet, width 64 feet. The design of the rooms, stairways and doors is for especial convenience in case of fire. There are four entrances on the ground floor and two stairways leading to the second floor, with halls 12 feet wide. There are two modes of egress in each room, one of which passes through the cloak room, the cloak rooms all being located in the center of the building. The building will be replete with all modern improvements, including good water and approved means of ventilation. The school directors, at their meeting Tuesday, expressed themselves much pleased with the work of the architects, which they unanimously approved. It is to be regretted that only one wing can be erected this season, as to erect the building piecemeal will entail considerable extra expense by the time the whole is completed. It may be stated in this connection that the architects were not required to prepare plans, except for that portion to be constructed, but in order to give better satisfaction, they went to the trouble, on their own account, of drawing plans for the entire edifice.

MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD.

At a meeting of the directors of school district No. 21, East Portland, Tuesday evening, the following business was transacted: The plans and specifications for the school house to be erected in Stephens' addition, prepared by Noer & Lalicher, were received and approved, and it was decided to build only the southern wing the present season, for the reason that no more could be accomplished with the available fund for building purposes. Bids for building this portion of the school house, and also for finishing the new wing of the central building, will be received up to the 18th inst., when the contracts for both jobs will be awarded. It was decided to employ at least twelve teachers next term, applications to be received up to the 20th inst., when selections will be made.

PREMATURE POLITICS.

Third warders started the political ball rolling Tuesday evening, by holding what they termed a "citizens' meeting" at the hook and ladder house. It was understood, however, to be in the interest of a certain party for councilman. J. J. Kelly was elected chairman. The real scheme of the meeting, it is said, failed of its purpose, and by an unexpected turn in the proceedings, H. C. Myers, the outgoing incumbent, received the nomination, although that gentleman was not in any way solicitous for the honor. The result, however, is no doubt more satisfactory generally than it would have been otherwise. On motion, Messrs. Halfpenny, Smith, Stratton, Brady and Harkins were appointed a committee to confer with committees from the other wards for the purpose of selecting candidates for the positions of mayor, city marshal and recorder. This action was premature, as citizens of other wards have not yet thought of calling meetings or appointing committees for the purpose stated.

NOTES.

The Hall & Stott building will commence its journey to-day.

W. Clarson returned yesterday from a week's business trip to the Sound.

The East Portland City Guards met at Brady's hall last evening for their initial drill.

Officer Jeralaman scored one d. d. Tuesday night named T. Davis, who is now wiping out the score in the calaboose.

Persons are again cautioned against risking their lives and property on the L street bridge, between Sixth and Eighth.

C. O. Blakely has commenced the erection of the Presbyterian church, on the southwest corner of Sixth and J streets. It will be 32x76 feet.

A boy of D. C. Hagart got one of his knees poisoned by some means day before yesterday, and it has since swollen to such proportions as to cause much alarm.

An enterprising citizen has started a stage line between the Stark-street ferry and the cemetery, charging ten cents for the trip in a good covered wagon. He deserves to succeed.

Bannan's team took a run on their own account in Holladay's addition last evening. At latest accounts they were still running, with the boy they had thrown from the wagon running after them.

SUPREME COURT.

SALEM, June 5.

M. Pavaer, respondent, vs. W. D. Cole, appellant. Appeal from Polk county. Judgment of the circuit court affirmed. Opinion by Watson, C. J., Lord, J., concurring; Waldo, J., dissenting.

SYLLABUS.—A stipulation for attorneys fees in a promissory note, in the event of an action being commenced to collect the same, is valid and enforceable against the maker of the note.

W. H. Taylor, respondent, vs. Wm. Scott, appellant. Judgment of the circuit court reversed. Opinion by Lord, J.

SYLLABUS.—The action of forcible entry and detainer is intended for the benefit of him whose possession is invaded. The gist of the action, and that which gives a justice of the peace jurisdiction, is the force either in the entry or the detainer, or both. The object of the action is to prevent and punish the use of forcible and violent means in such cases, irrespective of the question of actual title, and where these do not exist the action cannot be maintained.

It is not indispensable to a recovery for a forcible detainer that actual force be proven, but in the absence of such proof, threats of personal violence, or such conduct as clearly evinces a determination to resist, by force, the entry of the plaintiff, must be shown. The mere surmise or apprehension of the plaintiff that if he attempts to regain the possession he will be repelled by force, is not enough, but the words or acts of the defendant must manifest the present purpose to resort to force to defeat the attempt thus being made by the plaintiff to re-enter into possession of the premises.

Sol. King, appellant, vs. Benton county, respondent. Judgment of the circuit court reversed. Opinion by Waldo, J.; Lord, J., concurring; Watson, C. J., dissenting.

SYLLABUS.—The county court has no jurisdiction to hear the application of persons as petitioners for a county road, whose names are not on the notice. Such persons are mere strangers to the proceedings, and if a county court orders a road to be laid out on a petition so signed, such order is coram non judice and utterly void.

F. W. Knowles, appellant vs. T. G. Cockrill and others, respondents. Appeal from Coos county. Judgment of the circuit court affirmed. Opinion by Watson, C. J.

SYLLABUS.—A chattel mortgage, previous to foreclosure, confers no title or interest in the property covered by it on the mortgagee, which is subject to levy and sale on execution against him. Nor has the court any jurisdiction in proceedings supplemental to execution under the provisions of title 2, chapter 2 of the code of civil procedure, to direct the foreclosure of such a mortgage and the application of the proceeds toward the satisfaction of the judgment against the mortgagee, upon which the execution was issued.

S. M. G. Bunck, appellant, vs. Albert Stewart, respondent. Affirmed. Following the case of Brown vs. Lord, 7 Oregon, 312-14. Decision announced by Waldo, J.

R. D. Baubert & Co., appellants, vs. Conly and Leasure, respondents. Judgment of the circuit court affirmed. Opinion by Watson, C. J.

SYLLABUS.—R. D. S. & Co. placed accounts against divers persons in the hands of C. & L. for collection, and agreed that they should have 10 per centum on the amount collected by them as compensation for their services. While such accounts were still in the hands of C. & L. for collection under said agreement, and they were exerting themselves to bring about their payment, the sums due on a large number of them were paid to R. D. S. & Co. In a suit for an accounting and settlement afterwards brought by the latter against the former in respect to the collection of such accounts; held, that C. & L. should be allowed the stipulated commission on the sums so paid to R. D. S. & Co.

A report of the following case was inadvertently omitted from the published proceedings of May 29:

A. Coolidge and F. McClaine, respondents, vs. Blair, Forward and H. L. Henaky, appellants. Decree reversed. Opinion by Watson, C. J.

SYLLABUS.—To maintain a suit in equity under section 500 of the code of civil procedure for the determination of an adverse "claim, estate or interest," actual possession of the property affected by such claim by the plaintiff at the commencement of the suit is essential.

The ordinary jurisdiction of courts of equity, unaided by positive statute, does not extend to the trial of disputed legal titles to realty, under ordinary circumstances; therefore, a court of this character, in the exercise of such ordinary jurisdiction only, will not enjoin an execution creditor from selling any interest his debtor may have in real property previously conveyed away by him to a third party, but which conveyance the creditor, in good faith and not without reasonable grounds, deems to have been fraudulent, and proposes to impeach it for that reason.

Court adjourned until Tuesday next, the 12th inst., at 2 P. M.

CLEARING HOUSE EXCHANGES.

A Better Tone in the Reports of June—The Revival Evidently Real and Substantial.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—The Public has the following on clearing house exchanges: "The exchanges for the week ending June 2 are rather more encouraging than those for the month of May, as the latter are also more satisfactory than those of the previous months. At New York the exchanges of last year are now exceeded slightly. Outside of New York favorable indications are much more decided, and a gain of 4 per cent. last week shows continued improvement. These relations give gratifying evidence that the depression which appeared in May and during the early part of June has given place to a more active and wholesome movement. The increase, it is true, is partly due to excessive speculations, yet at other cities, where such speculations are relatively insignificant, the situation has undoubtedly changed to some extent since the beginning of June. At that time there was much dullness and hesitation in trade, stagnation in some branches of manufactures, constant fear of important failures and expectations of great and disastrous strikes.

AN IMPROVEMENT EVIDENT.

This uncertainty as to the future caused much embarrassment, and collections were generally rather unsatisfactory. There can be no doubt that there has been a distinct improvement. There is danger, perhaps, that its extent may be overestimated. The unexpected settlement of iron workers and manufacturers, though it is by no means of importance in its influence, was not reached until the end of last week, and probably did not directly affect exchange. The approach of July 1, when a new tariff will take effect, seems to have had considerable influence. Large operations in sugar occurred on the 1st of June, as soon as the new and lower duties on that article went into force. The improved condition of crops, however, is probably the most important cause of improvement in trade, and this seems to be real and substantial."

Cardinal McCloskey Reported Dangerously Ill.

NEW YORK, June 6.—It is reported Cardinal McCloskey is dangerously ill.

CONVINCING. Your Hop Bitters have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering with debility or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them.

Clipper Freights.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—The freight market has been active by all routes, especially via Cape Horn, and for the next sixty days, at least, ships will drag. The William H. Smith is the leading vessel, but will not get off before the 15th. The Tam o' Shanter, now drawing several feet, will be full about the 20th. The cargo of the William A. Campbell, before the list is completed, [illegible] of [illegible], sugar, 15 bbls whisky, [illegible] blasting powder, 50 cases [illegible], bale soda, 800 pkgs. sundries, [illegible] tons pig iron, 200 tons coal. Rates during the week are nominal. Ships available for this trade are scarce. Still, in view of the dull state of the market, there is no anxiety to [illegible] of California agents. The Mercedes [illegible] land, and will be in berth the 1st of July.

Railroad Incidents.

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Special.]—In railroad matters there is nothing new. Mr. Stubbs arrived today and a meeting probably will be held to-morrow. It is thought by several that there are too many interested in gathering and forwarding freight, thus creating a conflict, and to settle the matter one, or all, a commissioner representing all the lines between the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards should be appointed. This is an old scheme, but may be adopted yet. The Sunset route seems to be the source of trouble, as its rates are lower than for all rail routes. To settle the difficulty they will have to be admitted to the pool, until they seem to be satisfied, as there is a continued increase in shipments, and they had last week upward of 3000 packages.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY, June 6.

Foreign markets are all reported easier. The ago and New York are also in less tone. Yesterday's hot wave passed over the larger portion of California, the thermometer reaching from 90 to 100 degrees. Should the heat continue it is feared the wheat crop will be injured, and it is sincerely hoped the hot spell will be short, for a continuance of it would do serious damage to growing crops. With us the weather is warm but pleasant. A shower of a week's duration would be welcomed by farmers, yet there is nothing at present to discourage.

Freights are very quiet, with nothing doing. It is claimed that only a few vessels are wanted at the present, and the present situation is only temporary. At San Francisco rates are quoted firm. This is largely due to fears that growing crops may yet be damaged by heat.

The salmon run is again reported as increasing and may yet redeem itself to a large extent. A dispatch to-day from San Francisco says a cannery there is labeling its pack "Columbia River Salmon," "Cascade Packing Co." Such rascality should be widely exposed and the name of the firm given.

General produce lines in fair trade. Oats in larger stock and weaker. Ground barley jobbing at 1½ cents. Eggs in light supply at 27 cents. Chickens firm at $5@5 50, with receipts so far this week small.

Rice higher, $6 50 being asked for Island and $5 45 for mixed China.

Receipts past 24 hours have been 117 ctls wheat, 394 bbls flour, 448 ctls oats, 5940 lbs mill stuff, 60 bls hay, 1786 lbs hides, 42 bxs butter, 2954 doz eggs, 62 bxs fruit, 721 bbls lime. Also, 1760 lbs hides and 175,451 lbs wool from the eastern section.

The Oregon brought 200 boxes 318 hf 137 bbls 125 sks 6 kgs sugar, 110 kgs 1 bbl 44 cs syrup, 1 bbl pickles, 255 sks 1450 mts rice, 10 bbls 9 cs 96 sks coffee, 244 bxs soap, 24 bbls 600 sks salt, 280 bxs candles, 437 cs canned goods, 58 cs soda and sal, 57 sks beans, 10 cs split peas, 4 kgs sauce, 2 bbls currants, 16 cs milk, 2 hf bbl fish, 20 cs sardines, 8 bbls 1 hhd meal, 5 cs dates, 29 pkgs tea, 7 cs chocolate, 27 cs lemon sugar, 30 bxs candy, 3 sks 2 bbls nuts, 5 cs extract, 2 cs honey, 3 sks dried plums, 1 cs bak powder, 2 bbls vinegar, 1 csk prunes, 13 cs cream tartar, 13 tierces and 12 bbls hams, 3 cs cheese, 3 cs beef, 1 tc 20 cs 17 hf lard, 31 bxs butter, 95 bxs oranges, 500 pkgs fruits and vegetables, 1964 sks ground barley, 4 bls flour bags, 35 pkgs twine, 17 sks coal, 45 bbls sulphur, 22 bxs tin, 6 cls rope, 552 kgs nails, 16 cs cigars, 249 pkgs tobacco. For Astoria she had 5 sks nuts, 3 kgs sugar, 6 kgs 6 cs syrup, 15 kgs pickles, 20 mats rice, 6 sks 4 cs coffee, 1 bbl currants, 9 cs candy, 3 cs extract, 4 sks hams, 10 cs lard, 80 bxs tin, 60 sks bark, 50 bbls cement, 58 pigs lead, 220 pkgs fruits and vegetables.

SHIPPING NOTES.

Captain Fish, who commanded the Western Belle up to her present voyage, is in business at Chamberlain, Dakota. His officers are still in the ship, Isaac M. Bray being master and F. F. Butman mate, the owners preferring to promote them to engaging others. She lost about 23 days time by loss of sails off the Cape.

The Western Belle brings 1610 kgs spikes, 5587 steel rails, and 1031 bdls fish plates to the O. & C. R. R.

The steamship Wellington is 68 days out from the Tyne to Victoria.

The bark General Fairchild, hence, has arrived at Queenstown in a passage of 112 days.

The Br. bk Janet Neil, from, loads at Glasgow for this port to Balfour, Guthrie & Co.

The Ger. bk Josefa and Br. bk Slieve Bloom are reported up at Liverpool for this port, but may go to California.

The Walla Walla went down river at 1 P. M.

The Titan will probably begin discharging at noon to-morrow at foot of B street.

The State of California is due to-morrow and the Oregon sails at midnight.

The steamer Bonita, now at Seattle, will proceed to the scene of the Eureka wreck, having wrecking apparatus on board.

The ship Kate Davenport will await business at Tacoma.

The Alden Besse arrived at Victoria yesterday, from Hongkong.

The Colonia is fully due from Hongkong.

MEMORANDA.

Ship Titan, J. M. Bray master, from New York sailed December 23, meeting light N. W. winds, which increased to January 1, when it blew a heavy gale. Generally thence S. E. W. to W. winds to equator with trades moderate. Crossed line thirty-one days out. Thence moderate trades and pleasant weather to Cape St. John, after which had heavy gales from N.N.W. and W.S.W. March 11, fine weather in morning which changed by night to heavy gales, carrying away lower topsails and courses, stove rail starboard poop and carrying away a boat. March 23 was off Cape Horn, but in rounding was twice driven back and was 35 days from 50 to 50. Delayed several days by loss of sails. Had moderate winds and trades to equator, which was crossed April 27 in 109.19, thence to 40 N had northerly winds, losing trades in 27 N. Thence, variable winds to bar. Made land May 31 at 6 A. M.; took pilot next day at 8 A. M., and reached Astoria at 10 P. M., June 2.

In 30 S S, 88 36 W spoke ship Titan, on same voyage.

BABY'S PETITION.

Life is restless, days are fleeting,
Children bloom, but die in teething;
Warning take, all friends and mothers,
Watch the precious girls and brothers;
Read the home life of Victoria,
Children nine, all had Castoria;
No sleepless nights, by baby squalling,
Like larks they rise in early morning.

DR. PAUL M. BRENNAN

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Difficult Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—Nos. 132 and 134 Third street, corner of Alder, opposite Masonic Hall.
